AS PEACEFUL AS CANADIAN COUNTRYSIDE Mine-Sweeping Job Completed Canadians Swim in Suez Canal

By DAVE MCINTOSH

CAIRO (CP)—Canadian soldiers went swimming in the blue Suez Canal Sunday after completing the dangerous job of clearing a minefield in the no-man's land between Egyptian and Anglo-French forces.

The 26-man team of engineers, led by Capt. Norman Henderson of Vancouver, started the job Friday and slept two nights in the open beside the canal. The job was completed without casualties.

Canadian sappers went over the ground thoroughly because they didn't want to take the chance of other United Nations troops, dug in along the 1,000-yard buffer zone between the two armies, being hurt by mines they might have missed.

I walked across no-man's land under the hot desert sun and all was as peaceful as a Canadian Sunday in the countryside.

Ottawa Orders Start on $8 Million Ultra-Modern Air Safety Radar

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Marler said Sunday the federal government has decided to install an $8,000,000 radar chain across Canada to ensure greater safety for civilian aircraft.

Mr. Marler said the government will set up radar stations at 15 major airports across Canada, covering the country's airways from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Each station will have a radius of 200 miles up to an altitude of 50,000 feet, thus allowing flight controllers to keep track of all large passenger planes.

Mr. Marler made the announcement in a speech to the University of Ottawa Society of Engineers in a review of Canada's achievements in civil aviation during the last 20 years.

At Waterloo, Ont., J. R. Cann, vice-president and general manager of Raytheon Canada Ltd., which holds the radar installation contract, said work is scheduled to begin next October and continue at a rate of two sets every month.

When the 15 major airports—Toronto, Montreal, Moncton, Sept. Iles, Que.; Quebec, Ottawa, London, North Bay, Lakehead, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver—have received the equipment it will be possible to keep an aircraft under surveillance for most of a coast-to-coast flight.

Replacing present equipment with a range of 40 miles, AASR—airport and airways surveillance radar—will be able to spot a jet fighter at 90 miles, relation to its homing airport as the government specified, and will have a range about double that for large passenger aircraft.

Each set is designed so that it can plot, store and visually record facts and findings. It records on its screen the range and bearing of an airplane in

Britain's Great Decision

ALMOST UNNOTICED DURING the Suez crisis one of the greatest economic decisions in British history has lately been announced by the Eden Government. Britain has finally decided to enter a European free-trade zone. Probably nothing so vital to Britain's economic future has happened since the repeal of the Corn Laws. And this experiment will have incalculable effects on the economy of Canada.

Britain and the western European states this side of the Iron Curtain will undertake to reduce their tariffs among themselves, step by step, over a brief period of years, until, with certain exceptions, there will be no tariffs at all. Goods will move between these countries without paying any duty.

Though many industries now protected by high tariffs, exchange controls or other artificial barriers, will inevitably suffer from this new competition, the sound industries in each country will greatly benefit. Every European nation will be encouraged to produce the goods that it can produce best and most economically. Europe will apply, for the first time, Adam Smith's basic principle, the Division of Labor.

The only exception to this rule, in Britain's case, will be agricultural products. Britain will continue to give a tariff preference to farmstuffs from the Commonwealth, such, presumably, as Canadian wheat and Australian wool, meat and grains. But on manufactured goods the British preference system apparently is to be repealed.

It is impossible to calculate in advance the effects of this gigantic change, and especially its effects on Canada's market in Britain. Everything will depend on the methods followed by the free-trade union in Europe.

The Canadian Government, asked for its comment on this scheme, recently issued an important white paper which was probably little read because the public mind was concentrated on the Middle East.

In effect, Canada said that it favored any policy which would increase the economic strength of Britain and reduce the existing barriers to world trade. It believed that a new freedom of trade in Europe of itself would be a great gain for Britain and the world, but it also foresaw certain grave dangers.

The European trading zone would benefit not only the immediate participants but the world at large if it reduced European tariffs—providing it did not simultaneously increase its tariffs against the rest of the world, including Canada. This is indeed a serious danger to world trade and to Canada's market in Britain. The whole project could end in a watertight European trade compartment importing a minimum of goods from overseas.

The new policy cannot be considered in such short-range economic terms. It must be considered also in long-range political terms.

Thinking in those terms, most Canadians, and Americans also, will agree that the economic stability of Britain and western Europe is essential to the stability of the whole free world. They will agree also that Europe can achieve maximum prosperity only if its nations can trade freely together and thus concert their economic strength, now splintered by tariffs.

It is the United States, indeed, which has most strongly advocated that kind of policy and hoped that the Marshall Plan would produce it. The first experiment, the European coal and steel community—an international control of these basic resources—was warmly approved in Washington.

If, therefore, the larger plan now announced in London should cost Canada and the United States some immediate loss of markets in Britain and Europe they would be more than offset by the permanent political gains of a stronger European community. In the end a more prosperous Europe would need and could afford to buy a larger total supply of goods from overseas.

It is probably no coincidence that Britain's fundamental change of trade policy is undertaken in the middle of the Middle East crisis. For that crisis has demonstrated, among other things, the danger of depending too much on remote resources always at the hazard of local troubles, and the advantages of building up more stable wealth close at hand among reliable customers and old friends.

We Have a Promise to Fulfil

THE FIRST OF THE HUNGARIAN refugees are coming to us. They have been told that Canada has opened its hearts and its homes to them. They are the victims of a brutal attack against which the people of this country have cried in anger.

Now these men, women and children have ceased to be an abstract symbol of courage and the will to freedom in a land distant from Victoria. They are human beings who will soon be in our midst. After their ordeal of blood and anguish of spirit, they are buoyed by the hope of friendly warmth in Canada, in British Columbia's capital.

It is time for us in this community to convert our words into deeds. We must act now, not just talk. The time, if there was a time, for breast-beating is over. Breast-beating may promote the circulation of the person engaged in the exercise. It won't warm a Hungarian refugee. Their needs are practical and material.

In the news columns of this paper have appeared the names and addresses to which donations and offers of shelter can be sent. Victoria has the opportunity to show that it is more than willing to match its promises.

And while assistance is given to those who have been brought from the refugee centres, the need continues to give financial help to the students who fled Hungary but who remain in Europe—the young men and women who are the hope of Hungary's free future and the hope of all who cherish freedom.

Contributions to sustain them may be brought or forwarded to The Victoria Daily Times.

Boy Scouts Flourishing

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF president Vernon A. Ridgway shows that the Boy Scout movement continues to flourish and expand in this area. A record total of 2,475 boys is now enrolled in this region in 50 groups, under the public-spirited guidance of 203 leaders.

This is roughly ten per cent of the entire Scout population of British Columbia and the Yukon, which operate under the direction of Dr. D. F. Kidd as provincial commissioner. In a sense Scouting, with an annual budget of about $75,000 for the two areas, has become "big business," and has received increased support from the present government. Nevertheless, the voluntary leaders are wise in insisting that an intricate organizational structure should never be permitted to obscure the main purpose of the movement, which is development of the boy himself.

During the past year, some important personnel changes have taken place. Major Hugh Hunter, DSO, has passed from the service of the Victoria district, after an outstanding career of Boy Scout activity. Mr. George Barr has found it necessary to retire after three years as district commissioner, during which time he made a notable contribution to the association.

Succeeding him in the top voluntary post in this district is Lieut.-Col. Reginald Girard. With a background of 36 years in the Boy Scout movement, Col. Girard will find an enthusiastic host of parents and Scouters to assist him in his work, and will be ably supported by Mr. Robert Milks, the executive commissioner for Greater Victoria. The Scouts have done a magnificent job in Canada in carrying on the traditions laid down by the immortal "B. P."

'Snaggle-Toothed'

WE REFER TO THE PSYCHOLOGIST, the orthodontist and the expert on libel and slander the case of the man who held up a Vancouver bank last week.

The bandit, says the news item, was described as "snaggle-toothed, about 40 years of age."

From the psychologist and orthodontist we want to know if being "snaggle-toothed" made this individual into a bandit and if, with remedial treatment to his dentures, he might have been kept on the straight and narrow. From the libel expert we want to know if a bandit can sue on the grounds that he was held up to public scorn and ridicule by the description "snaggle-toothed."

We'd like to see the offender return the $2,575 loot he took allegedly at gunpoint and test these issues in court. So, no doubt, would the bank.

Too Much Interference

WE'RE hearing a good deal these days about television interference. One channel seems to be overlapping another; one station is putting its picture on top of another station's broadcast. The result is that neither of them comes in properly.

Tobin

This will run the gamut from annoyance to tragedy in some homes, but it shouldn't occasion any great surprise. For the whole trend of modern life is toward interference. Like wave bands, we're getting packed in so close that nobody can do anything without the effects being felt by his nearest neighbors. The test patterns of our lives are becoming increasingly mixed together as time goes on.

The only hope as I see it is that each person's pattern will be so designed that it will harmonize with the others when they're found on the same screen at the same time.

Like bricks in a wall, the patterns will have to fit in together or chaos will result. That's a pretty tall order for mankind; it's never been done before, as a look at history will prove. But one way or another our bricks are going to have to fit, and any bricklayer who can't see that ought to have his hod examined.

Jigsaw Puzzle

The overlapping happens in international broadcasting all the time. Egypt interferes with Israel, Britain interferes with Egypt, the United States interferes with Britain, Russia interferes with the United States. There's no limit to it. The question is: how are you going to make the patterns fit together to make a complete picture?

If the United Nations comes up with an answer to that one it will have scored a bullseye, but it's a pretty long shot. The same thing goes on much nearer home. The individual's actions overlap his next-door-neighbor's channel. The Jones' bonfire dirties the Smiths' wash; the Browns' barking dog wakes up the Jenkins' baby; the Rankins' beautiful garden makes the Johnsons' place look drab; Mrs. X's new hat calls for retaliation from Mrs. Y.

Of course, there is good interference, too. Bill's cheery word to Joe is transmitted to Charlie. One housewife's borrowed cup of sugar is passed along to a third neighbor in the form of cookies. In such cases the programs fit together nicely. The pictures complement each other instead of producing a jumble.

It hasn't always been so cluttered. The world was much less crowded a few decades ago and what a man broadcast during his lifetime was much less likely to cause interference with the next fellow's signal.

Lives of individuals and communities seemed to be less closely involved with others. There was more space between houses, more time between countries. Our broadcast bands were wider and you had to reach out on purpose to infringe on the next one.

The chief problem of society today is to try to harmonize the whole thing. But important as the problem is, less is being done about it than about most human problems.

Just think where we'd be now if ethics, both private and public, had taken a forward stride in the last thirty years equal to that taken by aviation, or television, or petroleum or electric power.

Uneven Progress

Just imagine the world if the social and political leaders of today were as far ahead of their counterparts of 1910, as chemical engineers or transportation experts are ahead of theirs. It would be quite a place to live, wouldn't it?

Of course you can't blame it all on the social or political leaders. They can only spring from the material available, and they can only work with the public that's available after they've sprung. A top-flight school class needs top-flight pupils as well as a top-flight teacher to get full results.

Even the more spacious days of yesterday were far from perfect. Mankind likes company so much it's willing to put up with some interference as being the lesser of two evils.

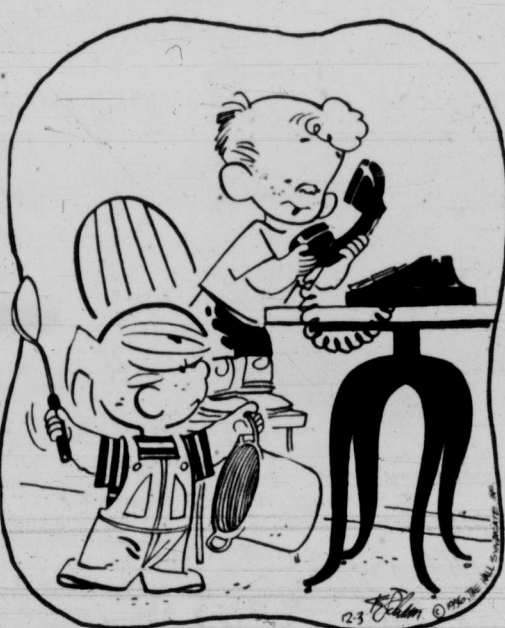

This attitude seems to be summed up in the story of the two sisters who lived miles from anywhere on the prairie. They wrote to a Lonely Hearts editor of a city paper that they weren't really lonely. "We have each other to talk to," they said. "What we really need is another woman to talk about."

MARKED for READING RARE FISH

In the Castle, the Kirk, and the Mill Lochs, at Lochmaben in Dumfriesshire, there swims a fish known nowhere else. It is unique, peculiar to these Lochmaben Lochs. It's called the Vendace (Coregonus vendaceus is its scientific name). A few other waters have their own special fish. Loch Lomond has the pout, sometimes called the Loch Lomond herring. And over in Lough Neagh, in Ireland, there's an Irish cousin, the pollan; while Bala Lake, in Wales, boasts of its gwyniad.

In Praise of Mr. Size

As an ex-Victorian, I was interested to see by our local paper that a resident of this community, Mr. Yi-Kwei Sze, is to sing in your city Dec. 4.

I write this note in the hope that everyone who likes good music will hear Mr. Sze. He is the possessor of a magnificent bass-baritone voice, and I know that he, with the accompaniment of his wife, Nancy, will give Victorians a memorable evening in the theatre.

In a city the size of Victoria, so desperately in need of almost every form of healthy activity for young people such as swimming, tennis, badminton, skating, etc., why waste $20,000 on another white elephant like the Yacht Pool.

With juvenile delinquency such a problem as it seems to be wouldn't it be much more to the point to use the money to better the lives of our youth instead of building something for them to look at.

Canadians

In regards to a letter in the Nov. 29 issue from a Harry G. Carleton, M.D., of Ontario.

It seems this man has forgotten in which country he is living.

After all — this is Canada, why shouldn't we play "O Canada" as our anthem and have the Red Ensign as our flag?

The United States anthem is to their country not to a person and the flag is their own, not that of another country.

Isn't it time we people of Canada started being Canadians?

The announced intention of the Social Credit Party to make a bid for power in the next federal election is cause for concern to those who believe there should be a change of government in Ottawa.

The present standing of the parties in the House of Commons, is as follows: Liberals 169, Progressive Conservatives 52, CCF 23, Social Credit 15, Independents 4, Vacant 2.

With the results of all by-elections outside of Quebec and the recent success of the Conservatives in Nova Scotia and their probable success in the forthcoming election in Manitoba, there would appear to be little doubt that as between the two major parties the Conservatives have every chance of winning the next federal election.

It should be clear to anyone with any knowledge of Canadian politics that the Conservative Party is the only one capable of replacing the Liberals in Ottawa and the only party in the federal field that can be regarded as a national party.

It could, however, be that the result in British Columbia might very well decide whether or not the Liberals are defeated. The 22 seats in this Province are vitally important and it is regrettable that the Secreds, so successful provincially, have announced their intention to nominate candidates. In doing so they may very well ensure the return of the Liberal Government to power.

There is little else Social Credit could achieve nationally. Of the 15 Social Credit federal members eleven are from Alberta and four from British Columbia. The party appears to be contained in the two provinces.

There are many reasons why Social Credit attained power in British Columbia, the chief of which, of course, was the disintegration of the Coalition Government which commenced on the basis of a gentlemen's agreement between the late Mr. Maitland and the Honorable John Hart and ended in a political brawl between their successors.

Social Credit had no standing in British Columbia until it was welded together under the dynamic leadership of Premier Bennett. No one doubts that despite the unpopularity of certain of its policies the present Government will remain in control of provincial affairs for some time to come. It could only weaken itself and the nation by participating in a fruitless effort to gain federal power.

Nasser's Next Triumph

EVEN now, with British troops still on Egyptian soil, Egypt's President Abdel Gamal Nasser is boldly moving ahead to destroy the last vestiges of British power in the Middle East. That is the real meaning of the confusing news from Syria and Iraq. The basic facts are simple enough. Lt.-Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, Syria's current dictator, is Nasser's man from start to finish. Nuri Said, Iraq's Prime Minister, is about the last moderate Middle Eastern leader, now that the fiercely anti-Western Suleiman Nabulsi, who is also Nasser's man, has been installed in Jordan.

Joseph

Iraq is also the only Arab state which adheres to the Baghdad pact, which was initiated by the United States, and to which Britain belongs. Therefore it is Nasser's next objective to eliminate Nuri Said, and to pull Iraq out of the Baghdad pact. The Soviets, for obvious reasons, share this objective.

Russian Aid

The Soviets have therefore bolstered Nasser's man Serraj by sending Syria token quantities of arms (which the Syrians are certainly incapable of using effectively). The Soviets have also instructed the Syrian Communists to support without reservation the Ba'ath Party, the violently anti-Western political grouping which supports Serraj.

There are several means available to Serraj to please his joint masters, and bring old Nuri Said down.

Iraq is totally dependent economically on its oil revenues. Most of Iraq's oil is carried in two pipelines which pass through Syria. These pipelines have been sabotaged, and they are likely to stay sabotaged until Nuri is brought down. Iraq is already beginning to feel the pinch.

Subversion is another means. There have already been anti-Nuri riots in Baghdad, and Nuri has been obliged to declare martial law. Both Communists and pro-Nasser nationalists are working hand in hand in Iraq against Nuri. And the powerful Cairo radio is another useful instrument of propaganda and subversion.

Finally, threats and hints of threats from Nasser's powerful friends in Moscow are also effective in this situation. Consider the meaning of the situation to the British. The oil from Iraq and from Kuwait, Bahrain and Qatar on the Persian Gulf are as essential to Britain as blood is to the human body. The British are openly pledged to fight rather than abandon the Persian Gulf oil sources.

Yet if they lose their bases in Iraq as well as in Jordan, there is almost no way they could protect the Persian Gulf oil against Arab attack.

Thus the obscure goings-on in Syria and Iraq, which seem so distant and unreal to most Americans, amount in fact to a joint Egyptian-Soviet push to destroy Britain once and for all as a great power, and even as a viable economy.

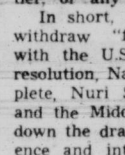

Same Purposes

It has been said that Nasser is no Communist—and of course he is not. But the fact that he is not does not really matter a whit, since his central purpose and the Soviet central purpose in the Middle East are precisely similar—to eliminate all Western interests in the area, ultimately including American interests.

Nasser and the Soviets are, moreover, in a fair way to gain this end. For when the British and French withdraw from Egypt, under the oddly combined pressure of the United States and the Soviet Union, Nasser will of course be the cock of the walk throughout the Middle East.

Defeated utterly by the Israelis, faced with the combined might of Britain and France, he will emerge absolutely unscathed, without having been even asked to make a single commitment about the future of the Suez Canal, the Western nations' access to vital oil resources, Israel's frontier, or any other important issue.

In short, as the British and French withdraw "forthwith," in accordance with the U.S.-supported United Nations resolution, Nasser's triumph will be complete, Nuri Said's fate will be sealed, and the Middle East will in the end go down the drain, as far as Western influence and interests are concerned.

The Peaceful Place

THE water in the pond is high these days, reaching to the very rim of the containing bank of bulldozed earth. The island in its centre is truly an island, for the summer causeway of sun-baked mud is deep beneath the water.

To alien and unsympathetic eyes, it's just a dirty little pond, no bigger than a big-sized lawn.

But in truth, it's more, much more, than that.

It's Muskrat's home to begin with. He lives in a little island house tunnelled among the twisted roots of a blackened stump. Often, he goes swimming in the pond, coming from his underwater doorway without the slightest splash.

See him cruising there among the tiny bays and headlands of his chosen patch of water. There are the reeds he so loves to gnaw upon, preferring—though the Lord knows why—certain clumps to others. There's the bank where he likes to sit in the sun, cleaning his whiskers and ready to swim again if danger threatens.

And this small promontory of soft black earth beside upturned, flat-bottomed skiff, is an exciting place for dog. Because here, among the roots again, is the doorway of another muskrat's home. Here a dog can dig with excited cries and wagging tail and flailing paws and face that's comically caked with mud.

Here at the other end is the place where cows come down to drink on their way to the barn at milking time. Here, regular as clockwork, they come each morning when the farmer lets them out of the barn. See how they drink deep and slow with dripping mouths and thirsty satisfaction. See their footprints on the ground, soft and squishy in the water, baked and dry in summertime.

See the pair of mallard duck swimming quietly, talking to each other in their reedy voices. See them rising in sudden flight when a human suddenly appears.

To this tall dead tree, the pigeons come in the early days of fall. For perhaps two weeks, they come every morning at a certain time, settling in their restless clouds, fluttering round till the pond seems like a world of wings.

In summertime, dragonflies skim the surface of the pool. So beautiful they are to the casual eye, so gross and greedy in their eating habits.

Here, swallows come on summer evenings, darting low in swift and graceful flight.

Here, springtime tadpoles wiggle in the water, and frogs sing in a chorus that, to me, is just as dear and seasonal as the sound of migrating geese.

Here, squirrel had his cache of carefully-gathered cones.

And here, amidst dry bracken, beneath a clump of Oregon grapes, is where a pheasant had her nest, and crouched in frozen silence on her eggs while a wandering cow grazed not six inches from her face.

Beneath this tree, the neighbor's child found the broken robin's egg. And this grassy, sheltered place is where Blossom had her calf.

This is the little unmarked trail where Orange Cat likes to go when he is hunting.

Here is where the farmer sets his pump so that sprinklers can turn upon his summer fields to grow another crop of hay or better, greener pasture. (Listen to the sound of it and to the little hesitating cough it gives just before the gas runs out. And consider what Muskrat thinks when the water level of his pond rises and falls with the farmer's pumping.)

In last November's frost, children skated on the pond, or slid if there weren't skates to fit, or stood and shivered and passed the time in quarrelling.

Yes, to alien city eyes, it's not much of a place. But wait till you have seen it in every season of the year, in sunlight and moonlight, in frost and snow and rain.

I know that civilized people wouldn't rest until they had it lined with concrete and all set about with fancy chairs and gay umbrellas, and tall alcoholic drinks. Like a picture from a magazine full of Gracious Living.

But you know what?

I love it just the way it is.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Deep Freeze

LONDON—With more tension and worry coming with each new headline, a story has cropped up to amuse people and for a moment or two take their minds off the crisis.

It concerns an old titled gentleman of considerable wealth who did not want the bulk of his money and his estate to be lost in death duties. So he decided to take advantage of the fact that gifts made more than five years before death are free of taxation. He split up all his wealth and property among his large family and they of course were very happy with the arrangement.

Unfortunately, he died just four months before the five years were up. This was a blow to the family and, crest-fallen at the prospect of having to part with everything for death duties, they called a family conference to see how they could get around it. The fact that there were only four months to go was galling—until somebody got the bright idea of putting the old man's body in the family deep-freeze. Four months in there and they could bring him out again and nobody would be any the wiser!

Only snag was the doctor and his death certificate. But they called him in and made him a proposition—if he held up the death certificate until the old man was out of the deep-freeze they would make him a nice fat gift that would allow him to live in luxury for the rest of his life. The doctor said that was okay with him and into the deep-freeze went the old gentleman's body.

But luck was not with them. The doctor himself died just before the four months were through.

What a dilemma! The new doctor was an upright young man who could not be approached for such a deal, so they decided they'd just have to take the old boy out, tell the new doctor he had just died and hope he didn't suspect anything.

They popped the old man into bed, packed hot water bottles around him and called in the young doctor. Yes, he said after the examination, the dear gentleman seems to have died of natural causes all right... but since he had not been his patient he felt he must do an autopsy before writing a death certificate.

On tenterhooks, the family awaited his verdict after the autopsy. But to their great relief the doctor announced that his post mortem confirmed that the old man died of natural causes.

"But there's just one thing that puzzled me," he said. "It is now winter, but the contents of the deceased's stomach show that just before he died he had a meal of fresh strawberries."

"Oh, that's easily explained, doctor," said dear old Aunt Hetty. "You see, we have a deep-freeze."

SYNOPSIS — A deep, low-pressure area lying over southwestern B.C. brought rain to much of the south coast and a mixture of snow and rain to the southern interior this morning. The low will move slowly towards the southeast during the day and as it retreats gradual clearing will occur along the coast.

All the Cariboo and much of the north coast lies under a blanket of cold Arctic air which will push slowly southward through the interior during the next day to bring all but the extreme southern coast in the cold air by Tuesday evening.

Violent Robberies Plague Vancouver

(From Times News Services)

VANCOUVER — Robbery with violence in Vancouver continued over the weekend as police pressed their search for a murderer and two holdup men.

Stevan Petryshyn, 56, told police he was attacked by five young men in the West End at 2 a.m. Sunday.

He told the police the men attacked him as he walked along the foot of Burnaby near English Bay. He said they took his overcoat, cigaret lighter, and wallet containing $5 and papers.

He was taken to St. Paul's Hospital where six stitches were needed to close a head cut.

Meanwhile, police reported no arrests have been made in the hunt for the murderer of Low Chew, 60-year-old Chinese grocer. He was beaten to death Friday night in his store.

Police are also looking for a gunman who held up the Bank of Montreal in the Marine Building Friday and escaped with $2,575.

A third search is being pressed for a youthful gunman who struggled with Charles Brummitt in a Kingsway men's shop and escaped with $27 early Saturday.

FERRY RESUMES RUN

VANCOUVER — The Ladner ferry returned to service Sunday after repairs. The ferry was taken off regular service Nov. 18. She was to have gone back more than a week ago but continuing fog on the lower mainland kept the ferry tied securely to the bank.

TWO REFERENDUMS

PRINCE RUPERT — At least two referendums will be submitted to the electorate in this month's civic election.

The first will ask whether the voters wish to retain the present Thursday half-day closing of stores or change to a full-closing day Wednesday.

The second asks voters whether they are in favor of a special levy up to one mill to be added to the tax rate to provide funds to offset the deficit of the Prince Rupert civic centre.

BOYS CAPTURE LYNX

FORT ST. JOHN — Three 13-year-old boys captured a clawing, snarling lynx with their bare hands. The animal was so badly beaten in the battle that it had to be destroyed.

Floyd Burnet, Fraser Burnet and Murray Logan were on a skating expedition when they encountered the lynx, which stood its ground and showed a willingness to fight.

With no weapons of any kind the boys attacked the bobcat and in the ensuing battle suffered cut hands, scratched faces, badly clawed legs and torn clothing.

Secret Papers Reveal Threat By Chiang

WASHINGTON (AP)—Confidential state department papers for 1942, released Saturday, tell how Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, frustrated by non-delivery of U.S. planes and military supplies early in the Second World War, threatened to make a separate peace with Japan.

The threat was dismissed by then U.S. Ambassador Clarence Gauss as a "bluff of the type that Madame Chiang was capable of concocting."

The incident is reported in a 782-page U.S. state department volume dealing with U.S.-Chinese diplomatic relations for 1942.

Olympic Games Briefs

MELBOURNE (AP)—Olympic Games paid admissions reached almost the 1,500,000 mark Saturday which means Melbourne will set an all-time record with one week of the events still to go.

Never before have such throngs seen the Olympic track and field events—capacity crowds of 100,000 every day.

What's the reason for it? Australians are simply crazy about sports. This is not a deeply track conscious crowd, as was that at Helsinki, or a politely, sportsman-like audience, like that at London, or a partisan crowd like that at Berlin. It is just a sports crowd, pure and simple, with plenty of sportsmanship and plenty of partisanship.

The first tragedy of the Olympic Games occurred Saturday when Arrigo Menicocci, member of Italy's eight-oared shell, was killed along with his Australian friend, William McKay, as they were driving back from Ballarat where they had been watching the canoeing events. Their car left the road and smashed into a tree.

Overseas correspondents here for the Olympic Games were treated to a giant outdoor barbecue Sunday at the famed Koo-yong tennis courts.

Herds of beef and lambs and pigs by the hundreds must have been slaughtered to provide the endless supply of sizzling steaks, chops and sausages. Heady Australian beef flowed from spigots, like a minor Niagara Falls.

And to make everybody happy, 400 beautiful Melbourne models were brought in to act as hostesses for the occasion.

Olympic officials are having problems with agile souvenir hunters who scaled the Cricket Ground wall Sunday night and made off with two flags which have been fluttering from the stadium. One was a British Guiana flag and the other an Olympic banner.

One first real show of temperament of the Games was displayed by Alain Mimoun, slightly built Algerian-born iron man who won the marathon for France. After struggling into the stadium at the end of the grind of 26 miles, 385 yards, Mimoun shook off efforts of Olympic officials to give him blankets and sweat-clothes. He refused to talk to the press. He went to the Olympic village where he remained unavailable to anyone for 24 hours.

The Duke of Edinburgh spent three hours with Commonwealth athletes at the Olympic village Sunday and 18 Canadian athletes and general manager Jim Worrall of Toronto were among those dining with him.

Fuel Added To Pee-wee Win Streaks

An old winning streak and a newer one received fresh fuel Saturday in Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association pee-wee league action at Memorial Arena.

Division leading Senators won their sixth straight with a 3-1 decision over Flyers, while Royals won their fourth straight after losing their opening three games of the season, a 5-2 rout of Maroons.

Bombers nipped Capitals, 4-3, in the other pee-wee game Saturday.

Cleve Parks, Paul Bion and Ed Hastings scored for Senators over Flyers. Bill Wiggins counted for the losers.

David Chapman led Royals along their comeback streak with two goals. Fred Jarvis, John Davies and Bob Knezevsky scored once, while Bob Robinson and Pat Green found the net for Maroons.

Bomber marksmen were Brian Fisher with two; Larry Johnston and Keith Donaldson. Wayne Anderson with two and Dennis Berry scored for the Capitals.

TUESDAY
7:00 a.m.—Bantam, Royals vs. Capitals.
6:00 p.m.—Juniors vs. Juniors.
WEDNESDAY
7:30 p.m.—Bantam, Senators vs. Maroons.
THURSDAY
7:00 a.m.—Midget, Canucks vs. Cougars.
6:00 p.m.—Midget all-star workout.
FRIDAY
7:00 a.m.—Pee-wee, Capitals vs. Flyers.
8:00 a.m.—Pee-wee, Royals vs. Senators.
9:00 a.m.—Pee-wee, Maroons vs. Bombers.

City Runners Lose to Fog

Victoria High School's cross country team became lost in the fog Saturday even before reaching the starting line of a scheduled match race against University of Washington runners.

Vic High's flight to Seattle Saturday morning was grounded by fog and the inter-city race was postponed. Team coach Gordon Hartley indicated that the U of W will try again in January to host Vic High's runners.

END OF ARCHIE'S TITLE HUNT

Floored for the second time in the fifth round at Chicago, 39-year-old Archie Moore is knocked out of the running for the world's heavyweight crown. Game Archie didn't quite make it to his feet in time to avoid a knockout as Floyd Patterson, 21, became youngest man ever to win the title, vacated by Rocky Marciano. Referee tolls count above Moore. Beliveau Tunes Up For Scoring Encore

By The Canadian Press

The amazing Jean Beliveau stood atop big-league hockey's individual scoring race today, once again intent upon capturing one of the most prized awards in the game.

The 25-year-old Montreal Canadiens centre, who has all the earmarks of becoming the greatest of National Hockey League greats, registered one goal and four assists when Canadiens clobbered the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 7-0 in Montreal Saturday night. Sunday, Canadiens were shut out 1-0 by Wings at Detroit.

The five points gave Beliveau, who won the league's individual scoring crown last season with 47 goals and 41 assists, a total of 33 points for 24 games.

Runner-up Ted Lindsay of Detroit couldn't muster a point during Detroit's two games. He is seven points behind Beliveau. The second-place Wings dropped a stunning 4-0 decision to the fifth-spot Leafs at Toronto Saturday.

RANGERS ADVANCE

Sunday, Leafs were slapped down 4-2 by the Rangers before 11,685 fans at New York and the leading Boston Bruins edged Hawks 3-2 at Boston.

At Montreal, Canadiens buried Hawks. The scoring was handled by Doug Harvey, who had two goals, Beliveau, Bert Olmstead, Bernie Geoffroy, Jackie Leclair and Don Marshall.

Sunday, Bill Dineen, playing his third game since being injured in the season opener Oct. 11, scored in the second period to give Wings the win.

CHADWICK SENSATIONAL

The Toronto scoring came on goals by Sid Smith, Dick Duff, Tom Sloan and Marc Reaume. Goalie Ed Chadwick made some sensational stops to log his second shutout of the season.

Andy Bathgate led Rangers with two goals Sunday, one of them after Chadwick had been benched in favor of a sixth attacker.

Dave Creighton and Larry Popen were the other Ranger marksmen. Duff and Brian Cullen tallied for Leafs.

Stasiuk's goal, which broke a 1-1 tie in the first period, was hotly disputed by Hawks. The Hawks jostled around referee Eddie Powers, claiming the puck hit the post, angled off and hit the other, crossing the red goal line in its progress.

COPS GET CONFUSED; BUT NOT SO PLAYERS

SPOKANE (CP)—Three carloads of police were dispatched to the Coliseum Sunday to break up fist fights among fans as a record crowd of 6,300 watched a hockey game.

In the confusion, it was never established just how many officers arrived, but it took them about five minutes to restore order. The battles in the stands broke out behind the bench of the Trail Smoke Eaters, with just 13 seconds remaining in the game. Earlier, both teams had been drawn into a rink brawl after two players had discarded gloves and exchanged punches.

Incidentally, the Spokane Flyers beat Trail 6-1.

COAST TEAMS WALLOPED

Cougars Got Out In Nick of Time

From the sound of things at New Westminster and Seattle Saturday night, Victoria Cougars may have vacated the coast division of the Western Hockey League just in time.

While the Cats packed their bags for a swing through the prairie division, the Calgary Stampede, vexed by a 3-0 loss in Victoria Friday, walloped the Royals, 7-4, for the first win of their coast tour. And the Edmonton Flyers topped that with an 8-2 decision over league leading Seattle Americans before 4,136 increasingly silent fans.

At Brandon, where the Cougars play Tuesday, the Regals were a bit more subdued in setting down the Winnipeg Warriors, 3-1.

Royal goalie Bev Bentley, who had two shutouts in a row entering Saturday night's game, couldn't control the overdrive Stamps. They split six goals with the Royals in the opening period, made it 5-3 after the second and outscored the team, 2-1, in the third.

Doc Couture, Calgary's wily old veteran, led the scorers with three goals. Enlo Schlizzi, Mid Houghton, Steve Witluk and Milan Marcetta also scored for Stamps. Bob Roberge, Arnie Schmutz, Ollie Dorohoy and Gordie Fashaway turned the trick for Royals.

At Seattle, Flyers flew to their third victory in four games of their western tour, handing the Americans their most humiliating defeat of the season en route.

CANADA HAS OLYMPIC POTENTIAL

Active Government Aid Needed

MELBOURNE (CP)—Jim Worrall, of Toronto, general manager of Canada's team at the Olympics, said today that the federal and provincial governments should take a more active role in providing sports facilities and setting up "a workable national physical fitness scheme" if Canada expects to make a better showing at future Olympics.

Canada's showing in the first week of the games "produced one or two pleasant surprises but on the whole the athletes performed according to my expectations," said Worrall in an interview.

"I have no words of criticism for the athletes themselves or for the officials who have handled them here. All the athletes have performed to the best of their ability under the circumstances. There is no question in my mind that Canada has the potential in young men and women to produce athletes in all sports as fine as those who have won gold medals at these games. But there are many factors which so far have prevented Canada from making a better showing in Olympic competition. Among improvements needed Worrall listed mass participation in sport in Canada, a national coaching scheme to develop coaches from various provinces who would, in turn, train other coaches in their own areas; increased sports facilities and more international competition for Canada's athletes.

"Our athletes do not get sufficient international competition of high calibre," said Worrall. "They are thrust into Olympic competition without the proper attitude, which is derived only from tough competitive experience. Tough experience, sheer hard work in training and a national spirit that achievement in sports is important

Canadian Aqua-Maids Rekindle Medal Hopes

Olympic Point Standings

MELBOURNE (UP)—The United States earned one more point than Russia in today's Olympic competition, yet its lead in the unofficial team standings was "reduced" to 48½ points due to the confusion in compiling points following Saturday's big program.

The complicated scoring system for freestyle wrestling was blamed for the confusion in tabulating the points for Saturday's program in which 36 gold medals were decided. At the end of that day's competition, it was announced that the U.S. led Russia, 46½ points to 39½.

However, after a recheck of the results, it was learned that Russia had been "short-changed" 25 points. Thus, in the standings at the conclusion of today's lone championship event, America led Russia by only 46½ points to 41½. By winning the relay event, Australia replaced Germany in third place with 169½.

The U.S. picked up five points today for its second-place finish in the 800-metre relay swimming event; Russia earned four points for its third-place finish.

The standings (points awarded on a 105-4-3-2-1 basis for first to sixth place finishes; gold medals in parentheses):

United States	468	(18)
Russia	419½	(8)
Australia	169½	(1)
Germany	167½	(3)

Irene MacDonald Second In Diving Preliminary

MELBOURNE (CP)—Irene MacDonald, crop-haired blonde from Hamilton, outclassed all but the brilliant champion Pat McCormick today in the first round of the women's Olympic springboard diving championship.

Irene's teammates in the swimming division of the Olympic aquatics were not to be outdone. Little Sara Barber, 15-year-old Brantford girl, qualified in heats in both the 100-metre backstroke and the 100-metre butterfly events. Both Whittall of Montreal, entered only in the butterfly, also qualified.

Heat winners in both events set records—one a world mark. Then Australia's sensational team lowered the world record in winning the men's 800-metre relay, only final of the day. The United States placed second and Russia third.

Only the great Pat McCormick, the defending champion who has helped Miss MacDonald train at her California home, ranked above Irene in the over-all points for six dives completed today. Twelve of the 17 contestants who entered qualified for the remaining

Siki to Tangle With Roberre In Main Event

Regi Siki gets his reward Tuesday night for winning last week's elimination tournament. He takes on newcomer Frenchy Roberre in the best-of-three falls main event on the weekly professional wrestling card at Memorial Arena.

In another best-of-three-falls match, Kurt von Poppenheim tangles with Dick Hrstich. Bill Fletcher and Buddy Knox match muscles in a one-fall special bout.

Opponents are yet to be named for the opening bout at 8:30.

Optimist Teams Take Two Crowns

Optimists' teams from Lansdowne Park won both finals as 20 teams competed in the Little Soccer League round-robin playoffs at Windsor Park Saturday.

Lansdowne Trojans, getting two goals each from Mike Jolly and Ross Gillespie, blanked Central Canucks, 4-0, in the 12-and-under final. Doug Hill fired two goals and Bob Maybel and Pete Jolly each counted once as Lansdowne Tigers shut out Central Bombers, 4-0, to take the nine-and-under title.

Ken Gregory of the Trojans was voted the day's outstanding player.

Representatives from Rotary, Kinsmen, Optimists, Victoria Lions, North Kiwanis, Oak Bay Kiwanis and Esquimalt Lions presented crests to all players from the parks the service clubs have sponsored.

Hockey Goes Amateur at Arena Tonight

The hockey at Memorial Arena will have a strangely amateur flavor tonight when Navy takes an Vancouver Pilseners at 8:30 in an Island-Mainland Amateur Hockey League game.

It will be Navy's second start of the season and its first home appearance. Sailors lost to Nanaimo Clippers, 9-5, in their first league game.

Saturday at Nanaimo, the Clippers waded through a penalty-infested third period to score four goals and defeat UBC, 8-4. It was their fourth straight victory.

Bobby Brocato Tops Half-Million Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Brocato topped the $500,000 mark in turf earnings Saturday, winning the feature $15,685 Bay Meadows handicap in 1:40 4/5 for the mile and one-sixteenth, a track record.

Veteran jockey Johnny Longden took the five-year-old son of Natchez, top-weighted at 128 pounds, to victory one length ahead of Hollandes II.

Laurie, George Keep Claim to Golf Buttons

Laurie Kerr and George Andrews of Colwood Golf Club made their first defence of the city open button title a successful one Sunday, defeating the Uplands Golf Club duo of Al

Reside and Gordie Fellow, 2 and 1, at Gorge Vale.

The junior buttons changed hands at Gorge Vale Sunday, however. Dale Dalziel and Bill Wakeham of Uplands defeated Gorge Vale defenders Jim McColl and Ray Chappell, 5 and 4.

Kerr and Andrews held a two-up edge over the challengers at the turn Sunday. They won the 13th to go three-up, but lost the 16th to hold a two-up edge going into the 17th, which they halved for the match. Best ball for the winners was 69; for the losers, 71.

Dalziel and Wakeham had little trouble with Chappell and McColl, making their first junior defence. Winners held a four-up edge at the turn and closed out the match on the 14th.

Dalziel and Wakeham shot near-par golf, with Wakeham being particularly steady, while the defenders had an off day over the hilly Gorge Vale layout. Kerr and Andrews will make their next button defence against Doug Munro and Einar Brynjolfsson Sunday, Dec. 16, at Uplands.

EZZARD HANGS 'EM UP AT REQUEST OF FAMILY

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ezzard Charles said Sunday he has hung up his gloves for good to devote his time to family and business interests here.

At his home, the 34-year-old former heavyweight champ said:

"I've just got too many irons in the fire now."

Charles said he sent his manager, Tom Tannas, a telegram telling him, "I don't want to fight anymore."

The Cincinnati heavyweight said his wife and grandmother had repeatedly urged him recently to give up his ring activities.

"I told my wife the other day I was going to get started training for another fight," he said, "and it was like I had hurt her with a pin or a red-hot poker."

Major league clubs were to make their draft choices today but they weren't letting that interfere with their efforts to make deals with each other.

Cocking one good ear to their conversation, here's how some of their propositions went:

1. The Dodgers made it known they're seeking a left-fielder, preferably Post, the muscular Redlegs slugger. To get him, they hinted, they might give up pitcher Carl Erskine and maybe even third baseman Ransom Jackson. If they can't get Post, they'd take Rip Repulski of the Phillies or Frank Thomas of the Pirates.

2. Baltimore manager Paul Richards has offered Kell to the Tigers but wants pitcher Ned Garver and first baseman Jack Phillips in exchange. The Tigers have asked time to think over the proposition.

3. Detroit, meanwhile, is shopping around for a left-handed hitting outfielder. The Tiger bait is right-handed hitting outfielder Bill Tuttle.

4. The Senators say that Yost, their veteran third baseman, can be had and they're listening to propositions from both the Red Sox and White Sox. Boston, however, has the inside track with such available as Billy Klaus and Ted Lepcio.

5. General Manager Frank Lane of the Cardinals, says he is still trying to make a deal for big Bob Rush of the Cubs. The Cubs want a catcher and a centerfielder.

Those are the prospective deals mentioned most frequently but there are numerous other clubs looking to deal, too.

SEEK REPLACEMENT

The Giants, for example, are casting around for a first baseman to replace army-bound Bill White. Milwaukee officials have indicated a willingness to trade with the Giants, and the Braves have set their sights on second baseman Red Schoendienst, whom they feel will "make" their infield.

Virtually the only club staying aloof from the trade talks are the champion New York Yankees. Yet, as one of their spokesmen here declared:

"We'll take a real good left-fielder if there happens to be one lying around."

Stanley "Stan" Musial, St. Louis Cardinals' star, said he would like to see the Cardinals win the National League pennant.

Big Mercury for 1957

straight out of tomorrow

OVER 6½ FEET WIDE—UP 3 INCHES

NEW WIDTH—Notice how the Big M's new breadth is dramatized by a massive new Jet Flo Bumper. The oval shape of this graceful new bumper design is as functional as it is beautiful. It acts as a double bumper, provides both high and low protection. Notice the matching twin-styled rear bumper (right).

ALMOST 5 FT. OF SHOULDER ROOM—UP 2"

A SLEEK
HEADROOM

NEW OVERSIZED INTERIORS—There is no crowd in the front or back seat of the new Big M. There's new headroom, legroom, hiproom. As much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars. Stunning new fabrics and interior appointments let you ride in a wonderful new world of colour and luxury.

NOW OVER 17½ FEET LONG—UP 5 INCHES

NEW LENGTH, NEW WHEELBASE—CLOSE TO TWO-TONS BIG—Every important dimension is bigger. In addition to the new length, wheelbase is increased 3 inches, and the 1957 Mercurys are up to 255 pounds heavier, too. A far lower centre of gravity gives you an amazing sense of "nailed down" stability on curves and corners.

NEW MIGHTY V-8 POWER

The BIG M for '57 offers you the mightiest V-8's in Mercury history—250 and 290 horsepower. Also available is a revolutionary Power boost engine fan that cuts off automatically when not needed for cooling, saves up to 17 horsepower other cars waste. And there's a unique new Thermo-matic Carburetor Air Intake that controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—boosts usable power and economy.

NEW DREAM-CAR DESIGN

It's a new shape in cars—a sharp-cut, dynamic look that makes other cars look soft and static. The roof is gracefully slender—sweeps back out over the rear window to provide extra headroom. The tail-lights have an imaginative V-angle slant. Here's the first production dream car—a distinctive, straight-out-of-tomorrow design that will influence the shape of cars for many years to come.

DRAMATIC NEW FEATURES

MONTE CARLO STREET RENAMED FOR GRACE KELLY

(AP)—The Boulevard des Bas Moulins—Boulevard of the Low Mills—was renamed Sunday: It is now the Avenue Princess Grace. Princess Grace, who used to be film star Grace Kelly, unveiled a plaque bearing her name amid cheers and applause from a watching crowd.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

MOVIE WORLD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Correspondent at Hollywood

THE LAUGH PARADE: When Samuel Goldwyn's Norwegian discovery, Sigrid Gurie, was exposed as a born-in-Brooklyn doll, Sam's comment was a classic still repeated in Hollywood today. "I don't care what part of America my stars are born in as long as they are foreigners."

A story is going about, probably slanderously, that a certain actress has to have her feet tickled so that she can "smile through her tears" while inhaling a slice of onion clutched in her handkerchief.

First movie fan: "Let's go to the Bijou tonight. The movie is about a mother who leaves her husband and later on raises her daughter but her daughter doesn't know she is her mother."

Second movie fan: "But we saw a plot like that just last week."

First m.f.: "I know, but this one is in technicolor."

Talking about an actor who always muffs his lines, Red Skelton said: "He's the eighth dwarf—Muffy."

Talking about a certain actor, Sheree North said: "He thinks appreciation is something he feels every time he sees himself on the screen."

JOAN BLONDELL and her sister, Gloria, who are look-alikes, were shopping in a Hollywood department store. A tourist spotted them and said to a friend: "Is that Joan Blondell?" "Yes," replied the friend, "both of them."

Maxie Rosenbloom, Joe Frisco and some friends were eating in a Chinese restaurant the other night. When the waiter placed a plate of rice cakes on the table, Frisco turned to one of the diners and said: "Please pass me one of Maxie Rosenbloom's ears."

Comic Operetta 'Candide' Melodic Triumph at New York

By MARK BARRON
NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright Lillian Hellman and composer Leonard Bernstein undertook an extraordinary and difficult task when they elected to make a comic operetta out of Voltaire's satire, "Candide," but this spectacular and imaginative musical came through with flying colors in its premiere Saturday night at the Martin Beck theatre.

With a cast of splendid voices, "Candide" is a melodic triumph. It has been staged by Tyrone Guthrie with a smooth flair as the story runs its way around the world from Westphalia to Lisbon, then to Paris, Buenos Aires and Venice.

Candide is a young man of high principles who believes that truth is more precious than gold. He travels across the globe in search of his sweetheart, Baroness Cunegonde, who has been lured away from him by her family who wish her to make a politically important marriage.

As he pursues her, Candide has to face inquisitions, wars, and all the other deceptions and weak points of man's inhumanity to man. He cannot offer a solution to these frailties. He can only remain steadfast in his own noble nature and deplore the sins of the human race.

Robert Rounseville is superb as Candide and he and Barbara Cook, who is a pretty and tuneful Cunegonde, give excitement to songs such as "Oh, Happy We" and a gavotte rhythm. Max Adrian is excellent in the dual roles of Dr. Pangloss, who looks only on the bright side of life, and Martin, who looks only on the sad side of life. Irra Petina, a charming mezzo-soprano from the Metropolitan Opera, is delightful as an old lady who dances and sings a tango, "I Am Easily Assimilated."

Not all marriages are made in Heaven, although the English town of Dunmow still strives to keep the married couples there happy by offering a "Pitch of Bacon" annually to the pair who live the most perfect life. All was going well with our hero and his wife until the family hired a glamorous Hungarian maid. The resulting misadventure provides a spicy comedy and great entertainment. Very funny! — and a good tonic. In Technicolor.

German-Canadians Brilliant As Soloists, Choir Perform

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

Expectation of something more than ordinarily pleasing in the way of music is natural when it comes to a concert by such a traditionally inspired people as the German.

It was in such a mood that this reviewer attended Saturday night's choral concert at Victoria High School. Expectations have never been more fully justified. In one or two instances they were even surpassed.

Main part of the program was a selection of German folk songs and lieder sung by the German-Canadian Club choir and directed by Hans Stelzner, leading French horn player of the Victoria Symphony. To this basic program were added three soloists and several instrumental numbers.

Stelzner's conducting has a compulsion, a dedicated fervor, an excellence of technique and firmness of control that inevitably brings out the best of which a choir is capable.

In this case, his ensemble has every promise of excellence. Tonal quality, phrasing and attack were admirable almost throughout and only in the matter of blend was there any failure.

One thoroughly delightful number was a piece in which the choral voices accompanied a solo trumpet melody, beautifully played by Dr. George Green.

One of the finest sopranos yet to grace a local concert stage, is Christa Ortlepp. Her solos from operas by Mozart and Weber revealed a pure, perfectly placed voice, full and golden in tone, and handled with knowledge and taste.

Gretel Adams' contralto is also of fine quality and she reveals considerable musicianship but has some trouble with her breathing.

A splendid and promising

IT'S A 'SARDINE CIRCUS' AT SAANICH MUNICIPAL HALL

Saanich Municipal Hall is bursting at the seams and voters will be asked in a referendum at the Dec. 15 elections if they favor a new hall, expansion of the existing offices or if further investigations should be made of teaming with the city in construction of a joint City-Saanich hall. General office at present hall is shown in first picture where workers say they hardly have room enough to change their minds. The hall floor space is just over 6,000 square feet and it is estimated the staff should have 19,300 square feet for efficiency. Second photo shows how municipal departments overflow into furnace room. Mrs. Jessie Michaud, head stenographer, is operating a dupli-

cator amid the confusion of pipes, bikes and other paraphernalia. Poundkeeper's desk is situated there, as well. In photo at right, tax department clerk R. W. Sinclair shows struggle in "Battle of the File," which goes on daily in all of hall's three chocker-block crowded vaults. Need for storage space as well as extra work room is emphasized.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Most-fascinating overheard remark of the week: I get so angry when people won't tell me their private affairs.

I am anxiously awaiting a chance to write a piece describing an architectural monstrosity.

I want to call it a topographical error.

There is a man named Uncle Mat who writes a little booklet each month for the Matrix Corporation.

He is no relative of Old Vic's Uncle Zeke, but there is a spiritual kinship.

Uncle Mat's latest report says he read in a society column that women like using lipstick because "There is something electric about the reaction we enjoy after applying it."

Uncle Mat says he's not so old that he can't remember kissing girls who wore lipstick. He adds "I also remember the electric feeling, except it was the kind of shock you got from kissing a wet eel."

How true department: Smoking makes a woman's voice harsh. If you don't believe this, try dropping ashes on her rug.

Advice to newlyweds: A husband should interrupt his wife now and then just to prove he is listening.

Warning to young men: Some girls have eyes like lucky dice. All they need do is roll 'em to make their point.

Did you hear about the politician who promised his fiancée he wouldn't look at another girl after they were married but six months later claimed it was just a campaign promise?

From the Old Jokes Home: A minister approached a wealthy man for a large donation to the foreign mission fund.

"I'm sorry," said the rich man, "but I don't believe in foreign missions."

"Surely," the minister told him, "you know we are commanded to feed the hungry."

"Well, can't we feed them on something cheaper than missionaries?" asked the man.

I am now willing to admit that television is a modern miracle. At CHEK's opening ceremonies, there were two mayors, three reeves, a cabinet minister, a diplomat, a member of parliament, three clergymen, three professional broadcasters, and a chamber of commerce president, all making speeches. And the electronic wonder machine got them on and off in 28 minutes 30 seconds.

PILOT'S WINGS have been won by FO Mark Fairley, son of Mrs. J. Fairley, 2058 Goldsmith, at RCAF station, Macdonald Man. FO Fairley attended Willows School and Oak Bay High School here. He enlisted in the RCAF after obtaining his junior matriculation certificate in June, 1955.

Sailors Admit Tombstone Theft For a 'Skylark'

Two young sailors admitted in city police court today they stole a 150-pound granite tombstone from a city monument firm for a "skylark."

Corry William Patterson and Derward Finlay Morrison, both from HMCS Naden, were remanded to Dec. 6 for sentence.

The stone was found in the back of their car early Saturday morning after they were checked by a Saanich police officer at Short and Saanich Roads.

It had been taken from Mortimer's Monumental Works, 633 David.

Patterson said the theft was "absolutely unpremeditated."

Both men said they had been drinking heavily.

Ice Box Strait Quickly Beats Shivering Ben

Laughten Quits Until Next Spring

Numbed from the cold in roughening water, Ben Laughten lasted two hours and 23 minutes Sunday in his 12th attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

He came out of the "ice flow" off Albert Head at 7 a.m. and announced "that's it until next spring!" He said he will continue training during the winter.

"It was the coldest water I've swum in," Ben said. "I lost all feeling in my fingers and toes."

He said the swim "satisfied my curiosity."

He wanted to see how long he could take the cold water—estimated at 38 degrees—and whether the tide was suitable for a quick crossing.

Laughten swam between two and three miles from Fisgard Light, at Esquimalt Harbor mouth, before wind started rising and water became choppy.

PACED HIM

Seventeen-year-old Anita Long, summer swim aspirant who accompanied Laughten in navigator Bud Phillips' cruiser Lili Marlene II, paced Ben for the last half hour of Sunday's swim try.

"It was getting pretty rough out there," Anita said. "I don't think he could have stayed in much longer anyway. Ben was starting to feel that cold."

Water temperature was expected to be in the vicinity of 43 degrees. Laughten thinks the course is a good one and will try it again next year during a similar tide period.

Anita said she hopes to try the 18.3-mile Strait next April.

RVYC Frostbites Win First Match Against Navy

Royal Victoria Yacht Club first-bite sailors dominated the first of the winter's interclub home-and-home team races against the Esquimalt Squadron, Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association, at Cadboro Bay Sunday.

Races were sailed in Davidsons. RVYC will go to Esquimalt harbor Dec. 16 for the return match, to be sailed in service dinghies.

RVYC scored 178 points on Sunday to RCNA's 133.

Car Wrecks Fence; Driver Fined $25

A woman motorist escaped with a bump on the forehead in Sidney Saturday night when her car ran out of control on Fifth Street, tore up 45 feet of picket fence, and crashed into a clump of trees.

Mabel Jane Pearson, Sidney, paid a $25 fine and costs in Sidney RCMP court today for careless driving.

Damage to the car was estimated at $400.

BODY IS STILL BEING SOUGHT

of Reginald Sinclair, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sinclair, 1320 Monterey, who drowned in Lac la Hache last Thursday. An all-round athlete at Oak Bay High School, in his last year he was a member of the Inter-High swimming team, Colonist Cup soccer team, Howard Russell rugby team, Inter-High track team and captain of House II. Since graduation in June, Reg had been working at a ranch in the Cariboo area. (Photo by Leonard Holmes.)

Expert Urges Wider Forest Management

Forest management must be intensified in Canada and the United States if the forest resources of the two nations are to meet the lumber requirements of the near future, according to Stuart Moir of Portland, Ore.

Mr. Moir, forest counsel for Western Forestry and Conservation Association, arrived in Victoria today to attend the association's three-day conference to open at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

More than 500 delegates and their wives are expected to attend the conference, called to discuss current problems facing the forest industry.

FIGHT ENEMIES

Mr. Moir, a veteran pioneer in forest management, said the forest industry can only meet its future lumber requirements by intensifying its fight against forest fires, insects and tree diseases, and by increasing its reforestation projects.

Mr. Moir, now 65 years of age, was the man who pioneered aerial forestry photography in Canada, and the use of planes for forest fire detection in the 1920s.

He admitted that his whole life has been wrapped up in trees.

"I love trees," he said. "My whole life has been spent in forest management."

The forest expert said he favored planting stately trees along boulevards instead of the smaller ornamental species.

"Give me the elms and hard maples," he said. "I think the difficulties of planting some of the larger trees along boulevards are exaggerated."

Long Sea Tow Nearing End

Sudbury Due On Wednesday

End of the Victoria tug

Ss. Sudbury's 2,000-mile tow of the crippled freighter Thunderbird is in sight, officials of the owners, Island Tug & Barge, said today.

Sunday night's position was about 250 miles west of Cape Flattery, and if the weather holds, the tow should reach Seattle early Wednesday.

The Sudbury is maintaining a towing speed of seven and one-half knots.

The freighter lost her propeller Nov. 7 in mid-Pacific, and the Sudbury then near the coast of Japan after completing a tow, was sent to the Thunderbird's aid.

Heavy gales delayed commencement of the tow, and the Sudbury also had to make a side trip to Adak, in the Aleutian Islands, to get medical aid for a sick crewman.

Two Suffer Minor Hurts In Accidents

Drivers of three cars involved in spectacular accidents in the city over the weekend escaped with minor injuries.

James E. Curtis, 1145 Balmoral, was released after treatment at Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday for injuries received when he crashed into a power pole on Esquimalt Road, near Bowlsby Place, causing heavy damage to the car and shearing off the pole.

A two-car smashup at Kings and Blackwood, Saturday evening, caused heavy damage to the autos and to the lawn and rockery of a house at the corner.

Phillip George Merrett, 32, of 1615 Camosun, suffered cuts on his head, face and knee, but was discharged from Jubilee after treatment.

The other driver involved, Sidney Anderson, 4460 Shareway Drive, was unhurt.

Merrett's car jumped the curb after the collision and ran over the lawn at 2581 Blackwood after bowling over a street signpost.

CAPT. HARRY ORMISTON LEAVES ESTEVAN

Skipper Ends Half Century Of Seafaring

By MONTE ROBERTS

A half century of seafaring ends today for Capt. Harry Ormiston with a farewell presentation aboard his last command, the lighthouse tender CGS Estevan.

At 65, Capt. Ormiston is reluctantly swallowing the anchor after a career largely spent with the Department of Transport. He joined the Estevan as third officer in 1914, and in 1948, after serving in other DOT ships, returned to Estevan as master.

He is succeeded as captain of the Estevan by Capt. Joe Peterson, formerly of CGS Berens.

GUESTS JAM SHIP

Decks and cabins of the Estevan were jammed this afternoon by old seafaring friends of the veteran master mariner. There is hardly a seafaring man on this coast who does not know and admire Capt. Ormiston.

Born in Cape Breton, Harry went to sea when he was 15, in his father's schooner, the Magie Millard. He spent one summer with that vessel in coastal trade. Then he came west to Victoria, to join his older brother, the late Silas Ormiston, who worked for the CPR.

Capt. Ormiston joined the B.C. Coast Service and over a period of years served in various ships of the coast fleet. He also spent a short period as seaman aboard the lighthouse tender CGS Quadra, prior to the time she was sunk in Nanaimo Harbor in 1916.

He served in the Estevan from 1914 through 1922, then was transferred to Prince Rupert, where he became mate, then master, of the tender CGS Newington. In 1937 he was given command of the tender CGS Alberni, and in 1945 transferred to CGS Berens.

Three years later he took over the Estevan, and held the command until reaching retirement age.

One-Way Plan On Douglas Protested

An overpass at the Hillside - Douglas roundabout "Fountain" instead of a proposed system of traffic islands and one-way streets, was recommended to city council today by Hudson's Bay store manager C. N. Chubb.

Cost has been estimated at $500,000.

In a letter to city council he asked reconsideration of the Faustman traffic plan which would make Douglas a one-way street.

"Such action, he said, would retard commercial development on Douglas north of Herald, handicap transit companies and inconvenience bus passengers, and cause serious financial loss to Douglas Street property owners.

California traffic expert J. D. Faustman has recommended changes to the Hillside-Douglas roundabout which call for a one-way street system running north on Douglas and south on Government between the roundabout and Herald Street.

The HBC store is located on Douglas between Herald and Fisgard.

Mr. Chubb said the morning and evening traffic peaks (which tie up the roundabout) are caused primarily by people who work downtown. The downtown area is primarily for shopping and doing business.

"It's function as a destination for all-day workers is secondary. It seems wrong in principle to ease the traffic problem created by workers out of business hours, at the expense of downtown as a place to shop and do business."

Mr. Chubb added that as the location of the roundabout is far removed from the downtown area:

"Surely there is some other solution which would not have serious effects on the shopping area."

"It would seem that the real solution lies in an overpass, in the vicinity of Douglas and Hillside."

ASK The TIMES

Q—When was St. Mark's Church, Boleskine Road, built?

L.S.

A—In 1892. An item in The Victoria Daily Times of March 7, 1953, said: "The plain little Church of St. Marks is and has been since 1892, the centre of religious life in the community of Cloverdale. Present at the laying of the cornerstone more than 60 years ago were Bishop Hills, Archbishop (later Bishop) Scriven, Rev. G. W. Taylor and many others... Like so many of the first churches on Vancouver Island much of the work was done by volunteer labor. And the building was erected at a cost of only $1,200..."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Various Christmas Symbols Shaped From Plastic Foam By PENNY SAVER

Door decorations, window decorations, mantel decorations... enumerable decorations that are a "must" in most homes during the Christmas season call for ingenuity, imagination and endurance. To make the job easier, and certainly a lot of fun, there are plastic foam decorative pieces that can be teamed up with ribbons, tinsel and candles for your centrepieces and scenes. In a bag that costs 98 cents, you'll find candy canes, bells, stars, snowflakes, Santa's boots, horns, trees and other symbols of Christmas. They can be put away and used year after year in different arrangements, so they're a good investment.

Gift parcels will glitter and sparkle when you decorate with silver, gold or colored sparkle dust. It doesn't take much effort, and the result is really something to see. A tube with a writing end holds glue. After tracing the pattern or name, sprinkle gold, silver, red, or green fine glitter on the glue, and there's an original touch that's something special. Four tubes of glitter and the tube of glue cost 59 cents.

China angels, so delicate and softly shaded, are a heavenly orchestra. Seemingly to relay the spirit of Christmas to all who see them are the dainty angels that hold lyre, cymbals, horn, cello, violin and lute. Single or grouped, these figurines are lovely to see, and would be very nice in a gift parcel. They're $1.75 each.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Asking a hostess for a recipe: Is it bad manners to ask a hostess the name of some packaged cracker she has served? I am not well acquainted with her and hesitate to do so. Do you think she would have thought me lacking in good form? Also, is it permissible to ask your hostess for the recipe for some delicious dish she has served?

Louise Davis answers: No, indeed, it isn't bad manners to ask your hostess these questions. She is always highly flattered when she discovers something that her guests particularly like, and she likes to hear the comments.

After all, her packaged cracker is no secret. If she discovered the box in a store, you can find it too, but I'm sure that she would be happy to tell you the name brand to save you the trouble of hunting. Asking for the recipe of the delicious dish is generally all right, but one should go about it diplomatically. First, of course, is the praise, which delights any hostess. If the recipe happens to be a family secret, she will immediately say so in order to save her guests the embarrassment of asking. If no such comment is made by her, then ask if she ever gives out recipes to her friends, for you would so much love to have it.

Holly Bazaar At Orphanage Raises $800

Annual holly bazaar at the B.C. Protestant Orphanage was officially opened Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah. The affair, sponsored by the junior auxiliary to the Orphanage, realized a sum of $800. Miss Leslie Field, general convener, introduced Mrs. Scurrah. Miss Elizabeth Wilson, president, welcomed guests.

A main attraction was the sale of boxes of holly at the garden stall.

Among many popular items on sale were quaint little Santa Claus figures, made from apples, marshmallows, suckers and gumdrops. Another special feature was sale of mince meat and Christmas cakes, under the convener'ship of Miss Field.

Tea was served under the convener'ship of Miss Diane Cox and Miss Maxine Ellis. A fish pond was operated by the Ranger Girls, and Mrs. Marjorie Shaw was in charge of the post office booth. Miss Shirley Marshall was convener of raffles.

Other stalls were arranged by: Miss Betty Stadfeld, toys; Miss Joan Smitherman, Mrs. Pat Young and Mrs. F. McPherson, babywear; Mrs. M. Nelson and Miss Joan Manning, children's wear; Mrs. Helen Cham-berlain and Mrs. F. Herman, home cooking; Mrs. Helen Smart and Miss Peggy Lowe, candy; Mrs. Nettle Hart, superfluties; Mrs. Margaret Crombie, garden and holly; Miss Merle Beauland and Mrs. Connie Harrison, aprons; Mrs. Nancy McCoy and Miss Mary Bochkio, novelties.

Attractive decorations in Christmas theme, with branches of evergreens tied with large red bows, were arranged with the help of Mr. Al Beauland and Mr. J. Harrison.

Miss Betty Stadfeld was in charge of publicity.

MAKE VISIT TO MOON

When they were on a holiday trip to California recently, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore, 967 Bank Street, visited Disneyland and enjoyed a ride on TWA's rocketship to the moon. The 80-foot structure, which is the theme of the Tomorrowland section of Walt Disney's magic kingdom of California, simulates a 12-minute "trip" to the moon by rocketship as scientists predict it will be made by 1965.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Ever Try Giving 'Wrong' Present to 'Right' Person?

I am an advocate of giving the wrong Christmas present to the right person. This may sound a bit confusing. My idea is this. I think we become too stereotyped in our idea of those we know and that this is reflected in the presents we give them.

A woman who cannot afford to buy many personal luxuries for herself is likely to get a bigger kick out of some fluffy bit of lingerie or an exotic perfume than she would out of a dozen pot holders or a fountain pen. Unless a man or woman has an unlimited amount of money there always are things we can give which they would not buy for themselves. Such gifts are most appreciated. Therefore, I suggest that we do not look at our friends and family with too practical an eye when selecting their Christmas presents.

Here are a few suggestions which may help you. Most hobbies cost some money and many of the most interesting ones are quite expensive. Why not give something which is connected with the hobbies of your friends or family.

Books make wonderful gifts for those who love to read if you know enough about the person's taste in literature. There are also many informative books about practically every hobby. There are books on wild life, gardening, hooked rugs, herbs, ceramics and so on.

Of course, the possibilities in the cosmetic world are myriad. Each year there are more products available and they are more imaginatively and beautifully packaged than ever before.

Also remember flowers when selecting your gifts this year. These are lovely messengers on Christmas Eve. There always are rewarding possibilities when buying for those who love music—records, record players, record racks and tape recorders.

If you are sending gifts to those you have not seen for some time, it is always helpful to ask their family or friends what they want or need. You just barely have time to do this with the hope for a quick answer.

I hope these suggestions strike fire some place on your Christmas list.

Xi Beta Chapter Bazaar Interests Many Eager Buyers; $400 Realized

Main floor at the YWCA was crowded with eager buyers on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Grace Kingham, city social sponsor of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, officially declared the annual Xi Beta Chapter bazaar and tea opened. Mrs.

Kingham was introduced by Mrs. Grace Waters, chapter president. A sum of $400 was realized during the afternoon and will be used to assist with work at "Seven Oaks," the Family and Children's Service home for emotionally disturbed children.

General convener was Miss Louise Michaux, assisted by members of the ways and means committee. The following were in charge of stalls: Miss Vera Waller and Mrs. Lillian Jones, baby wear; Mrs. Win Wardman and Mrs. Muriel Knight, aprons; Mrs. Esther Speller and Miss Dorothy Waller, corsages and flowers; Mrs. Marjorie Aldersmith and Miss Kitty Cameron, miscellaneous Christmas articles, that included dolls, dolls' clothes, Christmas stockings and fillers, also trimmings for the Christmas tree; Mrs. June Braley and Mrs. Joyce Nicholls, home cooking; and Mrs. Gwen Jones, white elephant.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CRANBERRY LATTICE COFFEE CAKE

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, ¼ cup shortening, 1 egg, ¼ to ½ cup milk, ¼ cup canned jelled cranberry sauce, crushed (½ 1-lb. can). Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Beat egg. Add milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is well moistened. Spread into greased 8-inch square pan. With floured spoon or finger make grooves in dough, diagonally across pan about 1½ inches apart, to form lattice. Fill grooves with cranberry sauce. Bake in moderately hot oven 400 degrees F 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 1 8-inch square coffee cake.

Christmas bazaar, Cridge Memorial Hall, Church of Our Lord, corner of Blanshard and Humboldt Streets, Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. Sale of work, home cooking, candy, novelties. Afternoon tea will be served.

Queen of Peace Church Scene Of Early December Wedding

Father Lewis MacLellan heard the wedding vows of Mary Victoria Chorney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Chorney, of Sugden, Alta., and Richard John Coles, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Coles, 68 Gorge Road West, Saturday evening.

Queen of Peace Church was decorated with white chrysanthemums for the occasion and during signing of the register, Mrs. J. Malenfant sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by organist, Mrs. A. Smith.

Given in marriage by Neil Coffield, the bride wore a gown of white pleated nylon with lace panels, styled in ballerina length with matching jacket. A tiara set with pearls held her three-quarter-length veil of nylon net edged with Chantilly lace and she carried a white prayer book topped with white feathered carnations and pink tea roses.

A ballerina-length gown of yellow nylon net was worn by Miss Ollie Chorney, who attended her sister. She wore a pearl tiara and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Lloyd Rowe was best man and ushers were George Murphy and Dave Green.

Mrs. Coles, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Stella Melvill, sister of the bride, assisted the newlyweds in receiving guests at a reception in Norway House. White candles and autumn flowers decorated the bride's table, which was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Archie Gillies.

For a honeymoon up-land, the bride donned a tweed dress, maker suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Coles will live in Nanaimo.

Special Guests At Bazaar-Tea

Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. N. Chant and Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah were special guests at a bazaar and tea last Friday, given by the Order of the Royal Purple, Victoria Lodge No. 5, in the Elks' Home, Mrs. Scurrah officially opened the affair, which realized the sum of $300.

Mrs. J. R. Beggs introduced Mrs. Scurrah, who was presented with a bouquet of pink carnations. General convener was Mrs. F. Matthews, and Mrs. W. Coburn was in charge of the tea. Serviteurs were Mrs. G. Jasper and Mrs. F. Webb.

One of the most popular stalls was one displaying work done by members of the Handicapped Enterprises.

BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN... BY HOUSEZ

Michael James Leedham is the handsome boy shown in picture No. 1 of this week's presentation of Greater Victoria's future citizens. Michael, who is seven-years-old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Leedham, 2515 Arbutus Road. Isabella Karen McKenzie poses for us in ballet costume in picture No. 2. Karen is the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mc-Kenzie, 1035 Empress Street. Picture No. 3 is that of Elizabeth Sheila Anne Findley, three years old. Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Findley, 2861 Eastdowne Road. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCullagh is seen in picture No. 4. Her name is Kelly Ann, she is 14 months old and lives at 2373 Central Avenue. (A Victoria Daily Times Feature.)

Of Personal Interest

Pre-Holiday Parties

Sgt. Ldr. R. D. Higgins and Mrs. Higgins entertained at a late-party on Sunday at their Transit Road home when guests were officers of the 2455 AC and W. Sgdn., RCAF (aux) and their wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Roberts are entertaining friends early evening tonight at their home on Foul Bay Road.

For Bride-Elect

Mrs. B. Matthews entertained recently at her home on Richmond Road, with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Minnie Murdoch, who is to be married to Mr. John Hudson on Dec. 22. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage of pink carnations and the gifts were contained in a decorated wishing well. Among those present were Mrs. F. Barnes, Mrs. J. Collins, Mrs. S. Ball, Mrs. E. Gillingham, Mrs. B. Hooper, Mrs. S. Arndt, Misses L. English, I. Shillabeer, I. Gordon, M. Fisher, P. Foubister, E. Crowther and T. Young.

At Supper Dance

Dancing to the music of Billy Tickle's orchestra in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel at the Saturday evening supper dance were Mr. and Mrs. T. Curteis in a party with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Main and Mr. and Mrs. Wilf Orchard.

In another party at the supper dance were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Impett, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bryson and Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson.

Sharing tables for two were Mr. and Mrs. F. Vincent Rush and Miss Susan Edgell and Mr. John Gault.

Also at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. R. McKean, Lt.-Cmdr. and Mrs. L. J. Reilly, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gardner.

Mrs. S. Cuppage and Mrs. H. Pickup attended the dance with Mr. and Mrs. George Dunlop.

At B.C. House

Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Goertz with Master Helmut and Miss Anita-Lea, have been recent visitors at British Columbia House in London, Eng. The Goertz family left Victoria for England recently. Others who have signed the register at B.C. House recently are Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Parry and P.O. W. T. Floyd, RCAF.

Neil Hindle Elected Victoria CCF Leader

Neil Hindle, 25-year-old CCF candidate in the last provincial election, has been elected president of Victoria CCF Constituency Association.

He has been an active member of the CCF for the last five years and a member of the executive since 1953.

He is a member of the Boilermakers' Union and one of its delegates to the Victoria Labor Council and Victoria Metal Trades Council.

He succeeds Clarence Moscrip as president of the Victoria CCF Association.

Two other Victoria CCF candidates in the provincial election also were elected to office. W. B. Caird is vice-president and Mrs. May Campbell, secretary.

Other officers are R. B. London, publicity; W. V. Williams, organization; George Kelly, education; and Mr. Moscrip, film delegate.

Mr. Hindle announced that CCFers in the federal riding of Victoria will meet Dec. 13 to name a co-ordinator who will organize a later meeting to elect a candidate for the next federal election.

Aches Forced Sinatra to Miss Dorsey Tribute

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Muscular pains in the neck and back prevented Frank Sinatra from appearing on a television tribute to his old boss, the late Tommy Dorsey, the singer's press agent said.

The publicist said Sinatra wanted to appear Saturday night with other alumni of the Dorsey band on the Jackie Gleason Show's memorial program. Dorsey died last Monday.

Refugees Crowd Austrian Homes

VIENNA (AP)—You can see refugees from Hungarian communism anywhere in Austria—from the straw-covered schoolroom floor in a border village to the Victorian plush of Vienna's Hotel Sacher.

Nearly 100,000 have come into the country in the last month. More than half still live in camps where relief organizations figure they can be kept and fed for a dollar a day. Those who get to the swank hotels or even into comfortable boarding houses are extremely rare.

They have resources of their own, or friends or relatives.

Along the 125-mile border between Austria and Hungary the Austrian villagers have dropped almost everything but the sugar beet harvest to help their Hungarian neighbors.

All of Burgenland Province prolonged to Hungary until after the First World War and many of the older people speak Hungarian. There are 10,000 refugees crowded into that tiny area.

At Andau, where thousands fled across the "freedom bridge" before the Russians blasted it, pink crepe paper streamers still hang from the rafters of the village inn's dance hall. Dozens of refugees bed down on the straw-strewn floor. High school students come down from Vienna to work around the clock, serving black bread, sausage and coffee on the rough tables.

Little knots of lost-looking refugees stand outside in the rain, waiting for buses to take them to slightly more comfortable camps.

Some of the men wear the fur hats and high leather boots of the central European peasant. Many of the women wear the best clothes they couldn't bear to leave behind, muddy now from the long walk across the fields. Nobody could bring more than he could carry, and often the only thing that could be carried was the baby.

One nine-year-old boy arrived without any of his elders, just his schoolbooks and a single pair of socks in a briefcase.

The biggest of the many camps is Traiskirchen. Just outside Vienna, in what was once a school for artillery cadets. The grim building was occupied by the Russians until a year ago. When the Austrians got it back, little remained but the bare walls.

Missions come there from the countries that want to receive refugees—to register and select those they think suitable. Some refugees never get to the camps. Trains sent by Britain, France, Denmark and Belgium back up almost to the border, load the fugitives aboard and start for home.

But many refugees want to stay in Austria awhile. Some have even dared to start back to Hungary with the idea of bringing out friends and relatives. Others just wait for them to come. Others think they may return to Hungary themselves if things get better there.

$450 Raised To Assist Needy Cats

Victoria's needy cats are purring with pleasure today. A cats' benefit staged by Cats' Protection League Saturday raised $450 at a tea and sale to carry on the work of the league.

Some 150 cans of condensed milk and cat food were left under the Christmas tree to form the basis of hampers for the city's under-privileged cats.

Tragedy Set By College Players' Club

Victoria College Players' Club will present Arthur Miller's tragedy "The Crucible" at the college Feb. 26 to March 2.

The club had planned to do "Ring Around the Moon" by Jean Anouilh but found the Christopher Fry translation was not available.

Cast of "The Crucible" will include William Walters, Gloria Landers, John Ashworth, Margaret Thomson, George Cummings, David Allan, Jill Diespecker, John Webb, David Gilbert, Tony Churchill, Sharon Plows, John Sparks, Anne Bernan, Marion Petter, Maureen Chalmers, Signe Lang, Martin Hamersley, Katherine McKillop, Don Sherwood and William Ozard.

Director Mrs. Flora Nicholson will be assisted by Tony Churchill. Technical director will be Norm Jones and costume designer Sharon Plows.

Lions' Bingo In Esquimalt Raises $750

Close to $750 collected at an Esquimalt Lions' bingo game Friday will provide hampers for the municipality's under-privileged families at Christmas.

John H. Taylor, 155 Clark, won a $400 government savings bond, and C. Panting, RR No. 1, Victoria, a movie camera and film.

Other prize-winners were Mrs. Irene Mitchell, 675 Lampson, luggage set; Kay McIlloin, 1611 Pembroke, clock radio; Mrs. Kay Rothrey, 500 Lampson, $35 scrip, and Mrs. A. L. Corry, 888 Dunsmuir, gold wrist watch.

Dignitaries Attend Opening of CHEK-TV

British Columbia's first privately-owned television station, CHEK-TV, Victoria, went on the air Saturday, unofficially at 5 p.m., officially at 6:59 p.m.

At the latter time Hon. R. W. Mayhew, former federal cabinet minister and Ambassador to Japan, cut a ribbon binding the main doors leading to the sound stage and declared CHEK officially "in business."

The station began telecasting at 5 p.m. when it joined the CBC network for a film feature. The first live production for the station began at 6:30 p.m. when David M. Armstrong, president of CHEK, acted as master of ceremonies for the opening ceremony.

He was introduced by David G. Hill, manager of radio station CKDA, of which Mr. Armstrong is also president.

Provincial and civic dignitaries were presented on the program and gave brief messages of congratulation. Those appearing were: Hon. W. N. Chant, representing the provincial government; Maj. Gen. G.

R. Pearkes, VC, MP, Mayor Percy Scurrell, Reeves Arthur Ash, A. C. Wurtele, Fred Norris and H. R. Brown, Commissioner Herbert Bradley, Ald. Austin Curtis, president of the chamber of commerce, Mayor Jack Dobson of Duncan, Archbishop H. E. Sexton, Rev. C. B. Smith, Rev. M. O. Egypt Ferry Service Risky Job for RCAF

Planes Face Anti-Aircraft Fire If Fail to Fly Dictated Course

By DAVE MCINTOSH, Canadian Press Staff Writer
NAPLES (CP)—Ferrying men and material from here to Suez is no milk run for the air crews of the RCAF's 435 Squadron.

WHAT NEXT?

Most Reds Worried Over Future

LONDON (Reuters)—The average Russian is worried about Hungary—worried that events there may make life hard for him just when things were looking up.

East Germans are concerned for the same reason. They think their government may crack down to prevent a similar outbreak. Poles and Czechoslovaks on the whole are calm, while Yugoslavs keep a wary eye on the Russian Communist party.

According to an assessment by Reuters correspondents in the Communist capitals, this is how the man in the street is reacting to events.

In Moscow the average Russian is worried about what he calls the West's "revival of fascism" in Hungary and "imperialist aggression" in the Middle East.

How, he wonders, will this affect life in Russia, just when life was getting easier, cheaper and more promising than at any time he can remember?

He reads a lot these days in the newspapers about "wind-bag saboteurs" and "spurious criticisms." Does this mean the end of his new freedom and good life? If so, he will blame the West.

In Yugoslavia, an independent state within the Communist bloc, the meeting of the Russian Communist party's central committee this month is awaited with great interest.

Many persons have a feeling that it may decide whether Nikita Khrushchev will be replaced by somebody more like Stalin with a resultant "hard" line in Communist policy as opposed to President Tito's advocacy of an independent road to socialism.

Special Meeting Called to Pass City Land Sale

Mayor Percy Scourrah today called a special meeting of city council Wednesday at 1:45 p.m. to gain approval for approximately $13,000 in new sales of tax-reverted lands.

The mayor said a contractor has already purchased seven lots in a new city subdivision bounded by Fairfield, St. Charles, Stannard and Brooke Streets.

"If council approves, he will buy an additional five lots and will build 12 three-bedroom homes," the mayor said.

He added he is asking the hurry-up meeting to avoid a lay-off of about 40 men employed by the contractor, which could result if the sale request were delayed. The mayor did not name the contractor.

The new homes will be in vicinity of a proposed new Safe-way store planned for the corner of St. Charles and Fairfield. Proceeds from land sales go to a special capital expansion fund, the same fund which is being drawn on for construction of the new Point Ellice Bridge. All land sales by the city are on an auction basis, going to the highest bidder.

Scouts Catch Theft Suspect After Chase

A new entry in Scouting's list of good deeds was added in Oak Bay Saturday—running down a youthful theft suspect.

Three Scouts, Bobby Gibson, 14, of 2900 Rutland, Frank Butlan, 14, of 2835 Beach, and David Angus, 13, of 2650 Bowker, chased and captured the boy after he ran out of a grocery store with $20.50 stolen from the till.

The money was taken from Miles Grocery, 537 Victoria, while Mrs. A. D. Miles was in the living quarters at the rear at 4 p.m.

She ran out after the boy and shouted to the three Scouts to follow him.

They chased the boy to the Shoal Bay Beach and held him until police arrived.

The 14-year-old suspect will appear in Oak Bay juvenile court. The three Scouts were just leaving the nearby home of Rover Leader Jack Muir, 2159 Guernsey, when Mrs. Miles called out to them.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city court today: George Billard, 2324 Cranmore, $25, expired driver's licence.

Joseph Lloyd Hanley, Nanaimo, $25, no B.C. licence plates.

Bruce Gary Allan, 1875 Feltham Road, $20, speeding. Edward Wilfred Gulgule, QOR, $10, failing to display his car registration form in a conspicuous place.

B.C. Geology Mapped By Helicopter Crews

By JOHN E. BIRD

OTTAWA (CP)—A 51-man federal survey party equipped with helicopters mapped the geology of some 28,500 square miles of mineral-rich territory in British Columbia last summer.

Geologists traveling through the northern wilderness by horse, canoe and on foot might have taken 20 years to do the same job.

The task, accomplished by a party headed by Dr. Ernest E. Roots, 33-year-old geologist with the Geological Survey of Canada, paves the way for the opening of mining development in the Cassiar Mountains and the Stikine Plateau of northern B.C.

The party worked in the remote, almost uninhabited area for 166 days, producing the first maps of its geology and mineral possibilities. It was able to cover the region by using two helicopters to supply and move survey groups to various sites from a central base in the Dease Lake area, some 120 miles south of the Yukon boundary.

Dr. Roots said in an interview here that preliminary geological maps showing types of minerals most likely to be found in specific sections of the territory will be available to mining companies and prospectors next spring.

The survey party, which included 17 geologists and technical officers of the federal mines and technical surveys department, was the first in Canada to use helicopters for large-scale mapping of mountainous country.

Dr. Roots said it appeared that the high cost involved in the use of helicopters was well worth the time saved.

"It appears more and more for geological survey work in remote regions," he said.

The party was split into seven groups which studied the geology of areas previously photographed from the air by the RCAF. These aerial maps gave some clue to the areas where minerals likely would be found.

Dr. Root said the groups did not spend time looking for mineral deposits. The job was to examine the rock surface of particular areas to determine the type of minerals they contained.

"Our studies will enable us only to produce maps showing the nature of the minerals in certain areas," he said. "These maps will help prevent a mining company interested in a metal like copper from wasting time and money searching for deposits in areas where copper does not exist."

The survey was undertaken partly as a result of a request by the B.C. government which is interested in helping to open the area for mining development.

Some sections studied by the federal geologists had never been visited previously by prospectors. The party had only a vague idea of mineral possibilities from a study of aerial maps.

He said the expedition's work encourages the belief that northern B.C. is a treasure house of minerals.

"We now can put something fairly reliable on a geological map," he said. "The map won't pinpoint mineral deposits but it will show the mineral potential of various areas and what mining companies may expect to find."

Federal geological survey parties would return to the area during the next few years to make more detailed maps. He expected this work would continue for at least another four years.

The 51 members of the party went into the field April 9 and wound up their work Oct. 17.

The two helicopters were in the air for about 750 hours transporting and supplying the survey groups. An airplane used to ferry supplies to the main base from Stewart chalked up 600 hours' flying time.

There was only one injury on the expedition—E. A. Schiller, 23, student geologist from Winnipeg, cut his leg while escaping from a bear and was flown back to Stewart for treatment.

Pearson Clarifies Statement

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson Saturday night said he had the Asian members in mind when he stated in the Commons last week that the Commonwealth was on the verge of dissolution at one point in the Middle East crisis.

He clarified his original statement on the CBC television program News Magazine in which spokesmen for both Australia and Ceylon disagreed with Mr. Pearson's views.

Mr. Pearson said Sunday that if the fighting had gone on in Egypt, he feared it would be difficult for India to have remained in the Commonwealth.

And if India withdrew, he believed, Pakistan and Ceylon also might have withdrawn.

But there never was any danger that the association of the older members of the Commonwealth such as Canada, Australia, Britain and New Zealand would have broken up.

Even if Canada didn't see 100 per cent eye to eye with Britain, her relations with the U.K. remained close and friendly.

Arch Must Defend Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Archie Moore must defend his lightweight boxing title by March 18 or forfeit it, the executive of the National Boxing Association ruled Saturday.

The ruling amounted to a three months extension to Moore.

Moore's last title defence was against Yolande Preppy in London June 18, said George Barton, NBA committee member and boxing commissioner at Minneapolis.

Under our regulations, he was to defend it again within six months time, or by Dec. 18. Because of the physical beating he took from Floyd Patterson he was granted a three months extension for a defence against a recognized NBA contender.

Bingo Raises $200 For Christmas Cheer

Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Club managed to clear expenses in their Saturday night bingo-for-charity session in Central Junior High School and will give $200 to Christmas cheer.

Only 900 players showed up to try for prizes—topped by $500 cash—leaving 700 empty seats.

M. M. (Mac) Robertson, 3804 Quadra, took home the $500 cash prize for the evening feature game.

Kinsmen are investigating possibility of a third bingo session next spring and appreciate support shown in their two this fall.

Victoria Kinsmen Club, planning a bingo night for Dec. 17, have already sold 3,600 tickets and received 2,500 entries to their mystery guest contest running in conjunction with bingo.

Entries closed Saturday and judges will select a winner to night. Winner, to be identified at the bingo game, will be brought from anywhere in the world at the expense of the club.

Victorians have submitted names of friends and relatives in such untoward places as Tasmania, Vladivostok, Ceylon, Venezuela, British West Africa.

Bingo Raises $200 For Christmas Cheer

Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Club managed to clear expenses in their Saturday night bingo-for-charity session in Central Junior High School and will give $200 to Christmas cheer.

Only 900 players showed up to try for prizes—topped by $500 cash—leaving 700 empty seats.

M. M. (Mac) Robertson, 3804 Quadra, took home the $500 cash prize for the evening feature game.

Kinsmen are investigating possibility of a third bingo session next spring and appreciate support shown in their two this fall.

Victoria Kinsmen Club, planning a bingo night for Dec. 17, have already sold 3,600 tickets and received 2,500 entries to their mystery guest contest running in conjunction with bingo.

Entries closed Saturday and judges will select a winner to night. Winner, to be identified at the bingo game, will be brought from anywhere in the world at the expense of the club.

Victorians have submitted names of friends and relatives in such untoward places as Tasmania, Vladivostok, Ceylon, Venezuela, British West Africa.

FIRST SAFE-DRIVING DAY

Six Accidents In Alberni Area

ALBERNI (CP)—Six traffic accidents sent two persons to hospital here Saturday, the first day of Safe Driving Week.

Club Opens $200,000 Arena Fund

COURTENAY—Upper Island Sports Booster Club has started a campaign to raise $200,000 for construction of an ice arena here. It will include sale of debentures, collection of pledges and donations. If the objective is not reached by May 7, 1958, all donations and pledges will be returned.

Mrs. Leonard Foy, a visitor from Toronto, was treated for head and face cuts suffered when her car skidded off the highway south of here. The car, driven by her husband, was demolished.

Robert Forbes of nearby Beaver Creek was released after treatment for head cuts and bruises. The car in which he was riding collided with a light truck.

Damage resulting from four other mishaps was estimated at more than $1,000.

COLIN CAMERON, MP

Human Rights 'Trampled' MP Declares

LADYSMITH (CP)—Colin Cameron, CCF member of Parliament for Nanaimo, will contest the seat at the next federal election. He received a unanimous nomination at the CCF convention here Saturday.

Mr. Cameron in an address deplored world conditions which he said permit human freedom to be whittled away and those with an obsession for power to trample on human rights.

He said a common denominator runs through situations and events in Algeria, Cyprus, Egypt, Hungary and Poland—an unquestionable determination on the part of human beings to obtain a measure of freedom and equity.

The West's greatest task, he went on, lies in strengthening the United Nations to make it an effective organization for protecting the economic, political, and social development of underdeveloped countries.

$10,000,000 In Proven Ore At Cowichan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Proven ore bodies at Cowichan Copper Co.'s property on Vancouver Island now exceed $10,000,000, president O. G. MacDonald told shareholders at the annual meeting here.

"When we reach the lowest 1,100-foot level, we estimate that we will have at least $30,000,000 in proven ore," he said Friday.

Mr. MacDonald told the meeting that when a mill is erected, probably next spring, Mogul Mining Corp. Ltd., Toronto, will be prepared to enter into a financing plan.

The board of directors was re-elected. Its members are Mr. MacDonald, G. Pattison, W. W. Weber, S. A. Perry, Al Stannard, David Whiting and N. Skidmore.

Rural Mailman Jailed Seven Years for Theft

DUNCAN — District rural mailman, Leslie Thomas Moth, has been sentenced to seven years in jail for theft from the mails, and passing stolen cheques.

A 12-month sentence was imposed at Duncan Saturday, to be served concurrently with a seven-year sentence received at Ladysmith the day previous.

where Moth was convicted on 13 counts concerning cheques. Moth, who lived at Cowichan Bay, held a Duncan rural mail delivery contract. Police said he had also assisted in sorting mail at Duncan on occasion.

Charges concerned thefts from the mails between May 1, 1956, and August 31, 1956. Amounts stolen were unstated.

Illegal Beer, Cigarets Cost Skipper $200

CAMPBELL RIVER—Master of the vessel Ss. Krusaa paid a fine of $200 Saturday to release his ship after it was held at Duncan Bay by RCMP.

During a routine check police found 15,900 cigarettes and 236 pints of beer which had not been declared on the ship's manifest, and which were confiscated.

Neighbors Will Replace Home Razed by Fire

HILLIERS—Plans are under way to build a new home for Peter Smith, 70-year-old war veteran whose house was destroyed by fire Saturday.

Volunteers are working under direction of W. M. Harris.

Starting in the chimney, the fire soon raged out of control destroying cash savings, veteran's allowance cheque, clothing and other contents of the house.

Qualicum Golf Club Elects R. Hodgson

QUALICUM BEACH—R. H. Hodgson was re-elected president of the Qualicum Beach Golf Club at its annual meeting in the Qualicum Beach Inn.

Vice-president is Jack Anderson, Parksville, and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Ralph Forrester, both re-elected. Meeting closed with films of the Canadian open golf championship for the Seagram Golf Cup.

Private Funeral Set for Daughter of Statesman

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday for Miss Kate Galt, a daughter of Sir Alexander Tilloch Galt, who died here Saturday at her home, 830 Pemberton Road.

Her father was Canada's first finance minister in 1858 and helped unite the first four Canadian provinces. He was considered one of the leading Fathers of Confederation, ranking closely with Sir John A. Macdonald.

Galt, Ontario, was named after Miss Galt's grandfather, John Galt, who came to Canada in 1820.

Archbishop Harold E. Sexton will officiate at the funeral.

B.C. Gets Refugee Foresters

Whole Faculty
Of University
Fled From Reds

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fishes Minister Sinclair said today the entire faculty and students of University of Budapest's department of forestry have escaped to Vienna and will come to British Columbia.

A total of 311 professors, instructors, and students plus dependents of the faculty, have been invited to stay at facilities of the Powell River Co. Ltd. at Powell River.

Immigration Minister Pickersgill relayed the offer to the Hungarian group today in Vienna. In a wire to Mr. Sinclair, Mr. Pickersgill said some one should go to Vienna to complete arrangements.

The Powell River facilities would be ready Jan. 15 and the Hungarians would probably come over by boat early in 1957, Mr. Sinclair said.

CONTINUE STUDIES

The Hungarians would continue their studies at Powell River during the winter with the help of University of British Columbia professors who would teach them English.

Next summer the Hungarians would do field work and would become a regular part of the University of B.C. in the fall of 1957.

The influx "will mean a great deal to British Columbia's forest industry," said Mr. Sinclair. "The next four years of graduates in forestry, engineering from Hungary would be able to work in Canada's forest industry."

Smiling Refugees Leave for Canada

Hardly a Tear as First Plane
Takes Off With 67 Hungarians

VIENNA (CP)—With brave smiles and hardly a tear, 67 young Hungarian men flew out of Vienna Sunday night, bound for Canada and a life far removed from the Russian terror ravaging their homeland.

The group of bachelors was given a sendoff by Immigration Minister Pickersgill of Canada, who told them the people of Canada are "waiting to make you feel welcome" when their plane arrives in Montreal today.

A Canadian Pacific Airlines plane is scheduled to leave today with a similar load of refugees for Vancouver. At least two more flights will leave later in the week.

Another 461 Hungarian refugees left the West German port of Bremerhaven Sunday for Canada aboard the liner Arosa Star, which is due in Montreal Dec. 13.

Mr. Pickersgill took a first-hand look Sunday at four big camps housing Hungarian refugees and said he is "thunderstruck" by the number of young refugees anxious to start a new life in Canada.

"They are just the kind of people Canada wants and needs," he said. "They are young, healthy and anxious to work."

MOVED BY SCENES

He was obviously moved by the scenes he witnessed in a seven-hour tour of camps in the Vienna area.

Pickersgill said at a press conference Sunday night that the movement of refugees to Canada will mount steadily and estimated between 5,000 and 6,000 will be "in Canada or en route there by the end of the year." Another 4,000 probably could move during January.

Pickersgill said he estimated between 50,000 and 60,000 of some 100,000 refugees who had fled Russian terror in their homeland are "willing and anxious to be immigrants."

He said the Canadian government has set no limit on the number of Hungarians to be accepted by Canada.

DEPEND ON RESPONSE

"The total number starting a new life in Canada will depend on the response from the Canadian people," he said. "Our idea is to keep the movement of refugees to Canada going."

MATTHEW HALTON

Noted Newsman 'Matt' Halton, Dies at London

LONDON (CP)—Matthew Henry "Matt" Halton, Canadian radio commentator and writer, died in St. Thomas' Hospital today after an illness of several weeks. He was 52.

Halton, a native of Pincher Creek, Alta., who became the dean of Canadian correspondents in London, suffered a relapse after a stomach operation last September.

He visited Victoria twice in recent years, on speaking tours for the Canadian Club. In November, 1944, he spoke in support of Canada's 7th Victory Loan. In May of this year he gave an assessment of the Russian position in world affairs. He was a brother of Seth Halton, publisher of The Daily Colonist.

Reds Claim Turks In Iraq

From AP and UP Dispatches

LONDON (UP)—Moscow radio said today Turkey had sent two battalions of troops to Iraq to bolster the government of Premier Nouri El-Said against "popular demands" for withdrawal from the Baghdad pact.

There was no official confirmation of the reports.

The Moscow broadcast also said Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan "have refused to obey an order from the prime minister demanding their immediate return home."

The Moscow broadcast coincided with diplomat reports in London that the United States and Britain planned to strengthen the Baghdad pact nations to counteract Soviet arms shipments to Syria.

Britain meanwhile called in experts and ambassadors from Middle East countries to plan the build-up for the Baghdad pact nations with which it is formally allied—Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey.

Diplomatic sources said they believed no sizeable arms shipments would go immediately to Iraq lest that action itself be seized on by Syria or other Arab countries as a "provocation."

But they confidently expected some new U.S. declaration of support for the Baghdad powers although the United States is not a formal member of the pact.

Diplomatic sources told The United Press Turkey is "gravely concerned" over the reported Red buildup in Syria and was bringing pressure for full American membership in the Baghdad Pact.

Russia itself was known to be anxious whether the United States would join and a number of Soviet diplomats tried to pump Western reporters this weekend on whether they thought America would join.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, said in Washington Sunday her country "feels threatened" as a result of the military buildup in Syria and threats from the Soviet Union.

(Reliable reports reaching Istanbul, Turkey, Sunday, said Russia has been building up her forces in Bulgaria, landing men and arms at the Black Sea port of Varna.)

HUNGARY'S FIGHTING STUDENTS

Christmas Gift Money Brings Fund to $1,415

Two little Victoria boys decided Saturday that "Hungary's Fighting Students" needed money more than their relatives needed Christmas presents, and parted with a dollar each for the students' fund sponsored here by the Times.

The fund is designed to help 40 young heroes of the recent revolt against Communism to complete their educations in Austria, where they have found refuge. Total cost of caring for the students until next May is $12,000.

(Pictures of some of these students arrived at the Times office today from Dr. Lotta Hiltzmanova, director of the Unitarian Services Committee of Canada, that is administering money collected. It is shocking to think that these youngsters, who differ not one whit from our own Victoria College students, were fighting for their lives against Russian armed might less than a month ago. The photos cannot be published because of the danger of retribution against relatives in Hungary.)

The two little Victorians who donated so handsomely from money saved to buy Christmas presents are David and Frank Holm, aged 10 and seven years respectively, who live at 2964 Harriet Road.

"I took their donations," said Mrs. Joyce Tate, clerk at the Times' Broad Street office. "They may have been small, but they knew exactly what they wanted to do with the money."

Other donations acknowledged today are as follows:

NOT TILL 'LATER DATE'

Hungarians Stall Hammaraskjold Tour

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The Hungarian government today accepted the offer of Secretary-General Dag Hammaraskjold to visit Budapest but specified that the visit should be "at a later date" appropriate for both parties.

At the same time, the puppet Communist regime again rejected the demands of the General Assembly for the entry of UN observers into Hungary to investigate the situation there.

The position of the government was set forth in a telegram from acting foreign minister Istvan Sebes to Hammaraskjold.

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. immediately called the Hungarian position "most unsatisfactory."

Lodge said the Hungarian agreement to accept a visit from Hammaraskjold at some indefinite time in the future could not be considered as compliance with UN demands for an on-the-scene inquiry into the Hungarian situation.

"The secretary-general must be able to go soon enough to do some good," Lodge said.

Traffic accidents were the cause of at least 20 of 25 fatalities during the weekend as Safe Driving Week got a grim beginning across Canada.

B.C. Tragedy Takes 2 Lives; Six Missing

CRESTON, B.C. (CP)—Little hope is held for any of eight loggers flung into icy Kootenay Lake when their small boat capsized on Friday night.

The bodies of two were found during the weekend. A search for the others resumed at dawn today.

Dead are Cecil Stoughton, father of three children, and Hugh Ellard, owner of a logging firm which employed the other men.

Missing are Harold Smith, Philip Stace-Smith, Doug Simister, Ted Grebo and Alex Ostrikoff, all of Creston, and Albert Wolff, believed from Saskatchewan.

All were dressed in heavy loggers' clothing.

At Vancouver two persons were killed in automobile accidents Saturday night.

Alexander Christie, 19, died when crushed beneath a rolling car. Mrs. M. H. Stenson was killed when two cars collided head-on. Her husband suffered scalp injuries.

A six-and-a-half-year-old girl who arrived with her family from Punjab, India, last August, died Saturday from injuries sustained when she was struck down by a car last Wednesday near her home in the University area.

Lloyd Announces Egypt Pull-Out; Claims Gains Made

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said today Britain and France have decided they now can withdraw their forces from Egypt "without delay."

Lloyd told a tense session of the House of Commons that the two governments "have instructed the Allied commander in chief, Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, to seek agreement with the United Nations commander, Gen. E. L. M. Burns, on a timetable for the complete withdrawal, taking account of the military and practical problems involved."

He said: "The French and British governments have come to the conclusion that withdrawal of their forces in the Port Said area can now be carried out without delay."

Lloyd said amid Opposition jeers: "Given good faith on all sides it (the withdrawal) can be carried out in a short time."

Lloyd said UN secretary-general Dag Hammaraskjold will promote negotiations as quickly as possible on three matters:

1. The six requirements set out in the UN Security Council resolution of Oct. 13 which would keep the Suez Canal out of national and international politics.

2. Talks in New York between Hammaraskjold, Lloyd himself, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. Lloyd did not elaborate.

3. Hammaraskjold's proposed basis for negotiating a new regime for the Suez Canal based on the six requirements of the Oct. 13 resolution.

Lloyd said: "I believe we shall reach an agreement providing adequate guarantees that the six requirements will be fulfilled. The (British) government of course adhere to their view as expressed in the resolution voted on by the Security Council of the 13th of October with regard to the 18-power proposals."

The 18-power proposals were formulated in London soon after Egypt nationalized the canal and would set up a system for international control of the waterway.

Burns, Keightley to Draw Timetable

Lloyd did not lay down in his statement details of a timetable for the withdrawal.

The foreign secretary said: "In preparing this timetable the allied commander has been told to ensure that proper regard should be had in the maintenance of public security in the area now under allied control."

"The UN commander has been asked to make himself responsible for the safety of any British or French salvage resources left at the disposition of the United Nations' salvage organization. The secretary-general has accepted this responsibility."

Lloyd said Israeli forces should withdraw from Egyptian territory and from the Gaza strip, which he said should be made a United Nations responsibility.

"Lastly," he said, "there is the question of a long-term settlement of all the problems in the area."

"I believe our action has done a great deal to produce conditions in which progress can now be made."

The stationing of UN troops in the area will contribute to a final settlement, the foreign secretary said.

Stopped a War; Unveiled Russ Plot

"I claim therefore that we have stopped a local war. We have prevented it from spreading. The extent of Soviet penetration has been revealed."

"We have caused the United Nations to take action by the creation of an international force. We have alerted the whole world to the situation of great peril."

Jeers and laughter from Labor benches greeted these remarks.

"Of course," Lloyd added, "there will be heavy costs to bear but they would have been far greater if our action had not been taken."

"It is now for the United Nations and its member states to see that this opportunity is turned to good account."

Lloyd sat down to loud Conservative cheers and Labor counter cries of "Resign!"

Aneurin Bevan, Labor's new spokesman on foreign affairs, immediately welcomed the announcement that troops will be withdrawn.

"We are very glad to hear, and the country and the world will be glad to hear, that the French and British governments have at last decided to pull their troops out of Egypt," he said.

"Secondly, we are glad to hear that the government are no longer attempting to dictate conditions to the United Nations."

"One would have thought that if the government had had any information about uncovering a Soviet threat they might have shared it with the United States and the Commonwealth governments."

Amid more opposition cheering and laughter, Bevan said: "Having regard to the obvious embarrassment of the government I feel I would be a bully if I proceeded any further."

Julian Amery, a leading member of the Suez group of Conservatives who have been demanding a firm stand in Egypt, declared: "All of us condemn wholeheartedly the part played by the United Nations and the party opposite and a small handful of members on this side of the House in bringing us to the humiliating withdrawal which

UN Chief Hopes UNEF To Take Over Dec. 15

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Secretary-general Dag Hammaraskjold hopes that by mid-December the British and French forces will be out of Egypt and the emergency UN force will have taken command in Port Said.

This was made clear in a statement issued for him by a UN spokesman.

The spokesman said: "In view of the secretary-general's understanding of the policy of the British and French governments regarding withdrawal, the attention of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UN emergency force commander, has been drawn to the need to ensure that the United Nations force should be in a position to assume its responsibilities in the Port Said area by the middle of the month."

Hammaraskjold plans to have almost 5,000 UN soldiers in

The Egyptian delegation received the news of Lloyd's declaration with satisfaction.

"As for a settlement of the Suez Canal issue, the six points mentioned by Lloyd in his speech, approved by the Security Council on Oct. 13—and also approved by Egypt—can serve as a good basis for reaching a settlement."

They are:

1. Free and open transit through the canal without discrimination.

2. Respect for Egypt's sovereignty.

3. Insulation of the canal from the politics of any country.

4. Fixing of tolls to be decided by agreement between Egypt and the users.

5. A proportion of the dues to be allotted to development.

6. Disputes to be settled by arbitration.

affected diversely and in proportionate manner.
But by the time CHEK-TV signed off Sunday night after about 16 hours of weekend operations there were many of those hit by Thursday's trial test who breathed a sigh of relief. Work by CHEK-TV engineers had produced results. Interference was eliminated or had been reduced to a point where a set-tuning, an antenna adjustment or the addition of a trap would bring in reasonably good Channel 5 reception.

LETTERS OF PRAISE
Congratulatory telephone calls and letters flooded CHEK-TV over the weekend. Said station manager David M. Armstrong: "You can come down and look at these letters we've received and see for yourself that the high proportion of them are congratulatory."

"Out at the site, Westinghouse engineer Bert Fines said that by working night and day since the Thursday signal, he and the technical staff had been able to cut Channel 5's original interference with Channel 3 down to "at least half."

"We have now reduced interference with five much beyond that point required by the department of transport," he pointed out. "But this is as far as we can go."

There were some complaints by Channel 6 viewers over the weekend that black parallel bars appeared in the pictures and that the sound was weak and faded. Mr. Fines explained that much of this trouble had been produced at the still unfinished station by the dust and dirt particles flying about in the atmosphere. However, he thought both the picture defects and the sound should be cleared up within the next few days.

MANY UNHAPPY
Meanwhile there were those, particularly in homes near the transmitter site, who were most unhappy. They were the ones who were bringing in two Channel 6s—one on channel 6 and one on channel 5. Possibly the most desperate Saanich man was the one who put up his house for sale Monday morning. Indication that there was still co-channel interference existing in spite of the work done on the transmitter was in the rush for traps. George Hinch, manager of Western Agencies, whose firm represents a Montreal trap manufacturer, said: "We had a terrific amount of inquiries over the weekend. Even my home phone was busy Sunday and they've been coming in here in droves."

Mr. Hinch said nine of the traps—all he had on hand—were placed in sets to test them. The results, he asserted, were most satisfying. Only in homes close to the transmitter was it impossible to trap out all Channel 6's interference with Channel 5. He pointed out, however, that it would be some days before his firm would be able to bring the trap into town for the general public.

Roy Parrott, whose firm, Ellison Queale Radio Supply Ltd., handles another type of trap, described the inquiries as "moderate." Referring to the lack of pattern of the interference, how it differed not only in each area but sometimes on the same street, he told of the two sets he had. On one he experienced no interference while on the second set Channel 5 was completely knocked out.

"It may be," said Mr. Parrott, "that the new station is merely showing up the necessity for a thorough retuning of some sets." He thought if he tuned the set with the interference he could almost entirely eliminate it.

Technician Earl Fenwick of 2529 Wark Street said he thought CHEK-TV engineers had done a magnificent job of curbing the interference. "I looked at 24 sets on Sunday alone," he declared. "I think the engineers have cleared up about 90 per cent of the trouble. What is left can be handled with gadgets along the lines of traps."

Doug Price of Langford Radio reported that CHEK-TV engineers have eliminated interference in the Langford area. He said, also, that he was speaking to a technician who was working in the Elk Lake area who reported that much of the trouble here could be eliminated.

Of course there is always one in every situation such as this. Doug Peden, Times sports reporter who lives in Cadboro Bay, looked a trifle shaken Monday morning as he said: "I can't pick up Channel 6 at all."

Six-Year-Old Hurt in Fire

COURTENAY — Tony Gage, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gage, Comox, received painful burns Sunday when the garage in which he was playing at the family home burst into flames.
A loud explosion followed by screams alarmed Mrs. Gage's two brothers, who ran to the garage to find it in flames. One of the men was burned while taking the boy from the building.

HAT SCORES HIT — Leading Aircraftman Cummine Dunbar, Vancouver, and his cap are the centre of interest for two Swedish members of the United Nations Emergency Force at Naples, Italy. LAC Dunbar is an aero-engine technician with the RCAF's 435 Squadron, now on UN air support duties in the Middle East. The cap is of the type worn by baseball players and bears the squadron crest. Groundcrew members of the squadron wear this type of chapeau while working around the aircraft. (SNS Photo.)

MAJ.-GEN. PEARKES SAYS:

Diefenbaker Certain For Tory Leadership

John Diefenbaker's election as leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Canada is now assured, Maj.-General G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP, said here today.

"At least four-fifths of all the Conservatives in Canada want Mr. Diefenbaker to lead the party," he said.

The Conservatives will choose their leader at a national convention in Ottawa Dec. 12-14. The two other contenders are E. Davie Fulton, MP for Kamloops, and Donald Fleming, MP for Eglinton, Ont.

General Pearkes who is MP for Esquimalt-Saanich returned here Saturday night after attending the emergency session in Ottawa called to vote money for Canadian participation in the United Nations peace patrol in the Suez and for aid to Hungarian refugees.

He said John Diefenbaker had strengthened his following with "a magnificent speech" calling for a second "Quebec conference" to patch up relations between the western allies.

"His speech had a lightning effect on the House," General Pearkes said. "It was the outstanding speech of the whole session."

St. Laurent's Suez Stand 'Outrageous'
He said Prime Minister St. Laurent's stand on Franco-British military action in the Suez was "outrageous."

"Quite obviously," he said, "External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson tried to tone down Mr. St. Laurent's outrageous remarks about Britain and France."

"Mr. Pearson's speech was carefully prepared and in it he tried to take a more generous view of the situation."

"Mr. St. Laurent, on the other hand, betrayed his true feelings in a heated piece of oratory that had not been prepared."

"The growing resentment against Mr. St. Laurent's anti-British tactics is by no means confined to British Columbia," General Pearkes said.

"In Saskatchewan last week I met many people who felt very strongly that Mr. St. Laurent does not reflect the feelings of most Canadians where the Suez crisis is concerned."

"I consider his statement in reference to Britain and France, placing them in the same category as Russia, was outrageous and unwarranted."

General Pearkes re-emphasized the statement he made in the Commons, that too many soldiers of 19 and under are being sent to the Middle East with the Queen's Own Rifles.

"It is taking chances to send young men into such unfamiliar territory," he said, "although I am assured that they are physically fit and that the unit is a good one."

the foreign secretary has just announced.

ACHIEVED RESULTS
Lloyd said: "I believe the actions that we took have achieved results which I set out. I will only add this, that the arguments of certain Labor members were very present on the lips of the enemies of this country."

Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the opposition, rose to say: "Even the humiliating position in which the foreign secretary finds himself does not justify this remark."

Gaitskell asked if Lloyd meant the United States and Canada were enemies of Britain.

The foreign secretary said: "I certainly did not include the United States and Canada."

Gaitskell pressed the foreign secretary to say what was the exact position of Britain's relations with Egypt now.

"Are we still in the state of armed conflict?" he asked.

RELATIONS NOT NORMAL
Lloyd replied: "Relations certainly are not normal with Egypt. We have no diplomatic relations."

Gaitskell claimed that the attitude of the opposition had done more than anything else to retain Anglo-American friendship, preserve the unity of the Commonwealth and ensure that at least some confidence in the future reputation of Britain continued to exist in other parts of the world.

The House will have 48 hours to think things over before beginning a two-day foreign policy debate. This will culminate in a vote of confidence Thursday night.

REVOLT POSSIBLE
There is a chance a revolt among his own parliamentary followers at that crucial point could turn the vote against Eden and force him to resign. But it is considered likely that enough of the diehards will close ranks behind the prime minister rather than risk defeat in the general election that would have to be called.

Inflation Now Reality Bank President Warns

MONTREAL (CP) — Inflation, which a year ago was only a potential threat, now is a reality, Gordon R. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal, said today at the bank's annual meeting.

So far inflation is only in its initial phases and far from rampant, but must be resisted resolutely and vigorously now, he said.

The battle against inflation cannot be won quickly or easily, Canada cannot hold inflation at bay by power if we so desire. Or, if we prefer to let prices rip when we happen to be trying to do too much too quickly, we can have a different kind of prosperity, much larger in dollars, but in dollars of lesser value.

"It is for us to decide what kind of prosperity and which kind of dollars we want in the next 12 months and the next 25 years."

With the growing diversity and importance of the means of attaining security of future income, whether in bank deposits, investments, life insurance or in pensions under private or government plans, all Canadians have a vital and continuing interest in preserving the dollar's purchasing power.

"We can have real prosperity and dollars of constant purchasing power."

The shipment included 3,000 tons of wheat, 500,000 cans of food, 10 ambulances, a completely equipped field hospital and medicines.

The Peaceful Place

THE water in the pond is high these days, reaching to the very rim of the containing bank of bulldozed earth. The island in its centre is truly an island, for the summer causeway of sun-baked mud is deep beneath the water.

To alien and unsympathetic eyes, it's just a dirty little pond, no bigger than a big-sized lawn.

But in truth, it's more, much more, than that.

It's Muskrat's home to begin with. He lives in a little island house tunnelled among the twisted roots of a blackened stump. Often, he goes swimming in the pond, coming from his underwater doorway without the slightest splash.

See him cruising there among the tiny bays and headlands of his chosen patch of water. There are the reeds he so loves to gnaw upon, preferring—though the Lord knows why—certain clumps to others. There's the bank where he likes to sit in the sun, cleaning his whiskers and ready to swim again if danger threatens.

And this small promontory of soft black earth beside upturned, flat-bottomed skiff, is an exciting place for dog. Because here, among the roots again, is the doorway of another muskrat's home. Here a dog can dig with excited cries and wagging tail and flailing paws and face that's comically caked with mud.

Here at the other end is the place where cows come down to drink on their way to the barn at milking time. Here, regular as clockwork, they come each morning when the farmer lets them out of the barn. See how they drink deep and slow with dripping mouths and thirsty satisfaction. See their footprints on the ground, soft and squishy in the water, baked and dry in summertime.

See the pair of mallard duck, swimming quietly, talking to each other in their reedy voices. See them rising in sudden flight when a human suddenly appears.

To this tall dead tree, the pigeons come in the early days of fall. For perhaps two weeks, they come every morning at a certain time, settling in their restless clouds, fluttering round till the pond seems like a world of wings.

In summertime, dragonflies skim the surface of the pool. So beautiful they are to the casual eye, so gross and greedy in their eating habits.

Here, swallows come on summer evenings, darting low in swift and graceful flight.

Here, springtime tadpoles wiggle in the water, and frogs sing in a chorus that, to me, is just as dear and seasonal as the sound of migrating geese.

Here, squirrel had his cache of carefully-gathered cones.

And here, amidst dry bracken, beneath a clump of Oregon grapes, is where a pheasant had her nest, and crouched in frozen silence on her eggs while a wandering cow grazed not six inches from her face.

Beneath this tree, the neighbor's child found the broken robin's egg. And this grassy, sheltered place is where Blossom had her calf.

This is the little unmarked trail where Orange Cat likes to go when he is hunting.

Here is where the farmer sets his pump so that sprinklers can turn upon his summer fields to grow another crop of hay or better, greener pasture. (Listen to the sound of it and to the little hesitating cough it gives just before the gas runs out. And consider what Muskrat thinks when the water level of his pond rises and falls with the farmer's pumping.)

In last November's frost, children skated on the pond, or slid if there weren't skates to fit, or stood and shivered and passed the time in quarrelling.

Yes, to alien city eyes, it's not much of a place. But wait till you have seen it in every season of the year, in sunlight and moonlight, in frost and snow and rain.

I know that civilized people wouldn't rest until they had it lined with concrete and all set about with fancy chairs and gay umbrellas, and tall alcoholic drinks. Like a picture from a magazine full of Gracious Living.

But you know what?

I love it just the way it is.

Ruth

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Deep Freeze

LONDON—With more tension and worry coming with each new headline, a story has cropped up to amuse people and for a moment or two take their minds off the crisis.

It concerns an old titled gentleman of considerable wealth who did not want the bulk of his money and his estate to be lost in death duties. So he decided to take advantage of the fact that gifts made more than five years before death are free of taxation. He split up all his wealth and property among his large family and they of course were very happy with the arrangement.

Unfortunately, he died just four months before the five years were up. This was a blow to the family and, crest-fallen at the prospect of having to part with everything for death duties, they called a family conference to see how they could get around it. The fact that there were only four months to go was galling—until somebody got the bright idea of putting the old man's body in the family deep-freeze. Four months in there and they could bring him out again and nobody would be any the wiser!

Only snag was the doctor and his death certificate. But they called him in and made him a proposition—if he held up the death certificate until the old man was out of the deep-freeze they would make him a nice fat gift that would allow him to live in luxury for the rest of his life. The doctor said that was okay with him and into the deep-freeze went the old gentleman's body.

But luck was not with them. The doctor himself died just before the four months were through.

What a dilemma! The new doctor was an upright young man who could not be approached for such a deal, so they decided they'd just have to take the old boy out, tell the new doctor he had just died and hope he didn't suspect anything.

They popped the old man into bed, packed hot water bottles around him and called in the young doctor. Yes, he said after the examination, the dear gentleman seems to have died of natural causes all right... but since he had not been his patient he felt he must do an autopsy before writing a death certificate.

On tenterhooks, the family awaited his verdict after the autopsy. But to their great relief the doctor announced that his post mortem confirmed that the old man died of natural causes.

"But there's just one thing that puzzled me," he said. "It is now winter, but the contents of the deceased's stomach show that just before he died he had a meal of fresh strawberries."

"Oh, that's easily explained, doctor," said dear old Aunt Hetty. "You see, we have a deep-freeze."

SYNOPSIS — A deep, low-pressure area lying over south-western B.C. brought rain to much of the south coast and a mixture of snow and rain to the southern interior this morning.

The low will move slowly towards the southeast during the day and as it retreats gradual clearing will occur along the coast.

All the Cariboo and much of the north coast lies under a blanket of cold Arctic air which will push southward through the interior during the next day to bring all but the extreme southern coast in the cold air by Tuesday evening.

Big Mercury for 1957

straight out of tomorrow

← OVER 6½ FEET WIDE—UP 3 INCHES →

NEW WIDTH—Notice how the Big M's new breadth is dramatized by a massive new Jet Flo Bumper. The oval shape of this graceful new bumper design is as functional as it is beautiful. It acts as a double bumper, provides both high and low protection. Notice the matching twin-styled rear bumper (right).

← ALMOST 5 FT. OF SHOULDER ROOM—UP 2" →

NEW OVERSIZED INTERIORS—There is no crowd in the front or back seat of the new Big M. There's new headroom, legroom, hiproom. As much shoulder room, for example, as in many of the most expensive cars. Stunning new fabrics and interior appointments let you ride in a wonderful new world of colour and luxury.

← NOW OVER 17½ FEET LONG—UP 5 INCHES →

NEW LENGTH: NEW WHEELBASE—CLOSE TO TWO-TONS BIG—Every important dimension is bigger. In addition to the new length, wheelbase is increased 3 inches, and the 1957 Mercurys are up to 255 pounds heavier, too. A far lower centre of gravity gives you an amazing sense of "nailed down" stability on curves and corners.

NEW MIGHTY V-8 POWER

The BIG M for '57 offers you the mightiest V-8's in Mercury history—250 and 290 horsepower. Also available is a revolutionary Power boost engine fan that cuts off automatically when not needed for cooling, saves up to 17 horsepower other cars waste. And there's a unique new Thermo-matic Carburetor Air Intake that controls the temperature of the air the engine breathes—boosts usable power and economy.

NEW DREAM-CAR DESIGN

It's a new shape in cars—a sharp-cut, dynamic look that makes other cars look soft and static. The roof is gracefully slender—sweeps back out over the rear window to provide extra headroom. The tail-lights have an imaginative V-angle slant. Here's the first production dream car—a distinctive, straight-out-of-tomorrow design that will influence the shape of cars for many years to come.

DRAMATIC NEW FEATURES

Everywhere you look there's a new idea—improved Merc-O-Matic Drive with an exclusive keyboard that outdates all other pushbutton transmissions, because it does so much more—controls six driving operations. A new Floating Ride that has to be felt to be believed, and a seat that remembers your favourite driving position. You can see all this, and more, at your Mercury dealer. Stop in today.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Sidney Cub Pack: Allan Burrow and Paul Taylor joined the pack as new chums. Temporary "sixers" were appointed and a compass games evening was held.

Windsor Park Troop: David Field had the pleasure of being presented with his "first-class" badge by his father at a ceremony at the regular troop meeting Wednesday. He also received his pathfinder's and fireman's badges which qualified him for the Queen's Scout badge which was presented to him by Scoutmaster Bill McFarlane. Fireman's badges were awarded to Jim Gallie, Ken Smith, Terry Clement, David Angus, David Foster and Bob Gibson.

The award of the Queen's Scout badge will qualify David Field to take part in the presentation of Queen's Scout certificates which will take place at Government House, Victoria, next April 25. New regulations effective Jan. 1, 1957, require six months' service as a "first-class Scout" before being eligible to receive the certificate.

Duncan - Chemainus District: J. S. Lawrence was elected president of the district at the annual meeting held recently. He replaces Col. T. V. Sandys, Vice-presidents are Sir Phillip Livingstone and Angus Campbell; secretary is Neil Gray, and treasurer, Albert Dirom. Members of the committee: Rev. Father Lauzier, Mrs. R. E. Lundahl, Mrs. J. Sandys-Wunch, Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Gordon Berry, G. C. Saunders, R. R. Pattison, R. E. King and W. K. Farquhar.

Zoo Keepers Earn 'Danger Money'

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (Reuters) — Attendants at the Auckland zoo receive 10 shillings a week extra as "danger money" — and believe they earn it. One keeper recently had a lion slash at him and rip his thumb to the bone. Another had to go to a hospital following a bite from a monkey. A few years ago a keeper was killed when he was crushed against a wall by an elephant.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Ira Shapiro, aged 11, Winston-Salem, N.C., for his question:

Is It True That Fountain Pens Are Made From Milk?

This story begins with a billiard ball and an elephant's tusk. It has led to thousands of new everyday conveniences. For we learned to manufacture substitutes for wood, pottery, china, sponge, glue, bristles, cloth, rubber and even jewels. Some of these substitutes improved on nature's materials. Those that are less durable than nature's fabrics serve a purpose and can be cheaply replaced. The story of this new branch of science makes us proud to live in modern times. That fountain pen made from milk is, of course, part of the fascinating story of plastics.

Billiard balls used to be made of solid ivory. The problem was to get enough elephant tusks to make them. About 50 years ago the shortage became so severe that the manufacturers offered $10,000 to anyone who invented a substitute for ivory. The prize was won by John and Isiah Hyatt of the U.S. They invented casein plastic made from the protein in milk. This was around the year 1900.

The Hyatt brothers went on to mold their lightweight plastic into other objects. They made dental plates and the side curtains for early automobiles. Celluloid, made from cellulose and nitrates, had been on the market some 30 years. But it was highly inflammable. The casein plastic was not. So the Hyatts used their plastic to replace those old-style celluloid collars. By 1914, casein plastics were known as gallith, or milk stone. Gallith was used to make the outer shells of fountain pens. The manufacturers thought so highly of it that they offered a lifetime guarantee with every pen they sold.

Since then, we have developed countless recipes for making plastics, each to serve a special purpose. However, there are only about 30 basic recipes for making plastics. These groups are named from the raw materials from which they are made. The casein plastics, still made from milk protein, form one of the basic recipes used with countless variations. Plastics are resins or gelatin substances. They are brewed from cheap and plentiful raw materials. The casein group is easily molded. The buttons on your shirt are most likely made of casein plastic. Like all other plastic recipes, the caseins are constantly being improved. For the vast industry of man-made or synthetic substances is new and fast growing. We never know what new miracles and conveniences in plastic are in store for us.

About 3 per cent of milk is casein. It is suspended as minute white particles in the liquid. Casein is the gooey binder necessary for turning milk into cheese. Rennet is used with the milk and the casein is separated and dried in granule form. Moisture and dyes are added and the mixture is kneaded. It is heated and rotated in high speed cylinders. The soft dough is pressed into molds and steeped in a solution of formaldehyde. Lastly, the molded plastic goes through a long, slow drying process.

Casein plastics can be made to look like horn and bone. It can be colored gaily with dyes. Color tones can be blended to make casein plastics that look like marble. And the shells of some fountain pens are still made of casein plastic which is made from the casein protein in milk.

READY FOR ADOPTION:

Sparky's people are moving a long way away... too far to take this soft-eyed, gentle black and white spaniel with them. One year old, female.

Big, sad-eyed, droop-jawed Pongo is as good a Newfoundland as you'll ever meet—except in the unfortunate matter of chickens. Two years old, male.

Four plump happy puppies, eight weeks old. Quite a bit of collie in the family.

A sort of Zazu Pitts of dogdom is Trevis — a big, good natured, rather unusual combination of border collie and airedale. One year old, female.

Boots, a rough-coated terrier, is almost a model for the original shaggy dog. He's one year old, apparently has had an unfortunate experience with young children as he doesn't like them — but he's a good house dog.

Short-haired terrier type, male, three years old. Name's Fatsy, but he isn't really.

IT'S A 'SARDINE CIRCUS' AT SAANICH MUNICIPAL HALL

Saanich Municipal Hall is bursting at the seams and voters will be asked in a referendum at the Dec. 15 elections if they favor a new hall, expansion of the existing offices or if further investigations should be made of teaming with the city in construction of a joint City-Saanich hall. General office at present hall is shown in first picture where workers say they hardly have room enough to change their minds. The hall floor space is just over 6,000 square feet and it is estimated the staff should have 19,300 square feet for efficiency. Second photo shows how municipal departments overflow into furnace room. Mrs. Jessie Michaud, head stenographer, is operating a dupli-

cator amid the confusion of pipes, bikes and other paraphernalia. Poundkeeper's desk is situated there, as well. In photo at right, tax department clerk Roberta MacLoud shows struggle in "Battle of the File," which goes on daily in all of hall's three chock-a-block crowded vaults. Need for storage space as well as extra work room is emphasized.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Most fascinating overheard remark of the week: I get so angry when people won't tell me their private affairs.

I am anxiously awaiting a chance to write a piece describing an architectural monstrosity.
I want to call it a topographical error.

There is a man named Uncle Mat who writes a little booklet each month for the Matrix Corporation.

He is no relative of Old Vic's Uncle Zeke, but there is a spiritual kinship.

Uncle Mat's latest report says he read in a society column that women like using lipstick because "There is something electric about the reaction we enjoy after applying it."
Uncle Mat says he's not so old that he can't remember kissing girls who wore lipstick. He adds "I also remember the electric feeling, except it was the kind of shock you got from kissing a wet cat."

How true department: Smoking makes a woman's voice harsh. If you don't believe this, try dropping ashes on her rug.

Advice to newlyweds: A husband should interrupt his wife now and then just to prove he is listening.

Warning to young men: Some girls have eyes like lucky dice. All they need do is roll 'em to make their point.

Did you hear about the politician who promised his fiancée he wouldn't look at another girl after they were married but six months later claimed it was just a campaign promise?

From the Old Jokes Home: A minister approached a wealthy man for a large donation to the foreign mission fund.

"I'm sorry," said the rich man, "but I don't believe in foreign missions."

"Surely," the minister told him, "you know we are commanded to feed the hungry."

"Well, can't we feed them on something cheaper than missionaries?" asked the man.

I am now willing to admit that television is a modern miracle. At CHEK's opening ceremonies, there were two mayors, three reeves, a cabinet minister, a diplomat, a member of parliament, three clergymen, three professional broadcasters, and a chamber of commerce president, all making speeches. And the electronic wonder machine got them on and off in 28 minutes 30 seconds.

PILOT'S WINGS have been won by FO Mark Fairley, son of Mrs. J. Fairley, 2058 Goldsmith, at RCAF station, Macdonald, Man. FO Fairley attended Willows School and Oak Bay High School here. He enlisted in the RCAF after obtaining his junior matriculation certificate in June, 1955.

Sailors Admit Tombstone Theft For a 'Skylark'

Two young sailors admitted in city police court today they stole a 150-pound granite tombstone from a city monument firm for a "skylark."

Corry William Patterson and Derward Finlay Morrison, both from HMCS Naden, were remanded to Dec. 6 for sentence.

The stone was found in the back of their car early Saturday morning after they were checked by a Saanich police officer at Short and Saanich Roads.

It had been taken from Mortimer's Monumental Works, 633 David.

Patterson said the theft was "absolutely unprompted." Both men said they had been drinking heavily.

Ice Box Strait Quickly Beats Shivering Ben

Laughren Quits Until Next Spring

Numbered from the cold in roughening water, Ben Laughren lasted two hours and 23 minutes Sunday in his 12th attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

He came out of the "ice flow" off Albert Head at 7 a.m. and announced "that's it until next spring!" He said he will continue training during the winter.

"It was the coldest water I've swum in," Ben said. "I lost all feeling in my fingers and toes."

He said the swim "satisfied my curiosity."

He wanted to see how long he could take the cold water—estimated at 38 degrees—and whether the tide was suitable for a quick crossing.

Laughren swam between two and three miles from Fisgard Light, at Esquimalt Harbor mouth, before wind started rising and water became choppy.

PACED HIM

Seventeen-year-old Anita Long, summer swim aspirant who accompanied Phillips' cruiser Lili Marlene II, paced Ben for the last half hour of Sunday's swim try.

"It was getting pretty rough out there," Anita said. "I don't think he could have stayed in much longer anyway. Ben was starting to feel that cold."

Water temperature was expected to be in the vicinity of 43 degrees. Laughren thinks the course is a good one and will try it again next year during a similar tide period. Anita said she hopes to try the 18.3-mile Strait next April.

RVYC Frostbites Win First Match Against Navy

Royal Victoria Yacht Club frostbite sailors dominated the first of the winter's interclub home-and-home team races against the Esquimalt squadron, Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association, at Cadboro Bay Sunday.

Races were sailed in Davidsons. RVYC will go to Esquimalt harbor Dec. 16 for the return match, to be sailed in service dinghies.

RVYC scored 178 points on Sunday to RCNA's 133.

Car Wrecks Fence; Driver Fined $25

A woman motorist escaped with a bump on the forehead in Sidney Saturday night when her car ran out of control on Fifth Street, tore up 45 feet of picket fence, and crashed into a clump of trees.

Mabel Jane Pearson, Sidney, paid a $25 fine and costs in Sidney RCMP court today for careless driving.

Damage to the car was estimated at $400.

Expert Urges Wider Forest Management

Forest management must be intensified in Canada and the United States if the forest resources of the two nations are to meet the lumber requirements of the near future, according to Stuart Moir of Portland, Ore.

Mr. Moir, forest counsel for Western Forestry and Conservation Association, arrived in Victoria today to attend the association's three-day conference to open at the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

More than 500 delegates and their wives are expected to attend the conference, called to discuss current problems facing the forest industry.

Speakers to address the conference include Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan; J. D. B. Harrison, department of natural resources, Ottawa, and R. E. McArdle, chief of United States Forest Service, Washington, D.C.

FIGHT ENEMIES

Mr. Moir, a veteran pioneer in forest management, said the forest industry can only meet its future lumber requirements by intensifying its fight against forest fires, insects and tree diseases, and by increasing its reforestation projects.

Mr. Moir, now 65 years of age, was the man who pioneered aerial forestry photography in Canada, and the use of planes for forest fire detection in the 1920s.

He admitted that his whole life has been wrapped up in trees.

"I love trees," he said. "My whole life has been spent in forest management."

The forest expert said he favored planting stately trees along boulevards instead of the smaller ornamental species.

"Give me the elms and hard maples," he said. "I think the difficulties of planting some of the larger trees along boulevards are exaggerated."

Long Sea Tow Nearing End

Sudbury Due On Wednesday

End of the Victoria tug Ss. Sudbury's 2,000-mile tow of the crippled freighter Thunderbird is in sight, officials of the owners, Island Tug & Barge, said today.

Sunday night's position was about 250 miles west of Cape Flattery, and if the weather holds, the tow should reach Seattle early Wednesday.

The Sudbury is maintaining a towing speed of seven and one-half knots.

The freighter lost her propeller Nov. 7 in mid-Pacific, and the Sudbury, then near the coast of Japan after completing a tow, was sent to the Thunderbird's aid.

Heavy gales delayed commencement of the tow, and the Sudbury also had to make a side trip to Adak, in the Aleutian Islands, to get medical aid for a sick crewman.

Two Suffer Minor Hurts In Accidents

Drivers of three cars involved in spectacular accidents in the city over the weekend escaped with minor injuries.

James E. Curtis, 1145 Balmoral, was released after treatment at Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday for injuries received when he crashed into a power pole on Esquimalt Road, near Bowlish Place, causing heavy damage to the car and shearing off the pole.

A two-car smashup at Kings and Blackwood, Saturday evening, caused heavy damage to the autos and to the lawn and rockery of a house at the corner.

Phillip George Merrett, 32, of 1615 Camosun, suffered cuts on his head, face and knee, but was discharged from Jubilee after treatment.

The other driver involved, Sidney Anderson, 4460 Shareway Drive, was unhurt.

Merrett's car jumped the curb after the collision and ran over the lawn at 2581 Blackwood after bowling over a street signpost.

One-Way Plan On Douglas Protested

An overpass at the Hillside - Douglas roundabout "Fountain" instead of a proposed system of traffic islands and one-way streets, was recommended to city council today by Hudson's Bay store manager C. N. Chubb.

Cost has been estimated at $500,000.

In a letter to city council he asked reconsideration of the Faustman traffic plan which would make Douglas a one-way street.

Such action, he said, would retard commercial development on Douglas north of Herald, handicap transit companies and inconvenience bus passengers, and cause serious financial loss to Douglas Street property owners.

California traffic expert J. D. Faustman has recommended changes to the Hillside-Douglas roundabout which call for a one-way street system running north on Douglas and south on Government between the roundabout and Herald Street.

The HBC store is located on Douglas between Herald and Fisgard.

Mr. Chubb said the morning and evening traffic peaks (which tie up the roundabout) are caused primarily by people who work downtown. The downtown area is primarily for shopping and doing business.

"It's function as a destination for all-day workers is secondary. It seems wrong in principle to ease the traffic problem created by workers out of business hours, at the expense of downtown as a place to shop and do business."

Mr. Chubb added that as the location of the roundabout is far removed from the downtown area:

"Surely there is some other solution which would not have serious effects on the shopping area."

"It would seem that the real solution lies in an overpass, in the vicinity of Douglas and Hillside."

ASK The TIMES

Q—When was St. Mark's Church, Boleskine Road, built? L.S.

A—In 1892. An item in The Victoria Daily Times of March 7, 1953, said: "The plain little Church of St. Marks is and has been since 1892, the centre of religious life in the community of Cloverdale. Present at the laying of the cornerstone more than 60 years ago were Bishop Hills, Archbishop (later Bishop) Scriven, Rev. G. W. Taylor and many others... Like so many of the first churches on Vancouver Island much of the work was done by volunteer labor. And the building was erected at a cost of only $1,200..."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Various Christmas Symbols Shaped From Plastic Foam

By PENNY SAVER

Door decorations, window decorations, mantel decorations... enumerable decorations that are a "must" in most homes during the Christmas season call for ingenuity, imagination and endurance. To make the job easier, and certainly a lot of fun, there are plastic foam decorative pieces that can be teamed up with ribbons, tinsel and candles for your centrepieces and scenes. In a bag that costs 98 cents, you'll find candy canes, bells, stars, snowflakes, Santa's boots, horns, trees and other symbols of Christmas. They can be put away and used year after year in different arrangements, so they're a good investment.

Gift parcels will glitter and sparkle when you decorate with silver, gold or colored sparkle dust. It doesn't take much effort, and the result is really something to see. A tube with a writing end holds glue. After tracing the pattern or name, sprinkle gold, silver, red, or green fine glitter on the glue, and there's an original touch that's something special. Four tubes of glitter and the tube of glue cost 59 cents.

China angels, so delicate and softly shaded, are a heavenly orchestra. Seeming to relay the spirit of Christmas to all who see them are the dainty angels that hold lyre, cymbals, horn, cello, violin and lute. Single or grouped, these figurines are lovely to see, and would be very nice in a gift parcel. They're $1.75 each.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Asking a hostess for a recipe:

Is it bad manners to ask a hostess the name of some packaged cracker she has served? I am not well acquainted with her and hesitate to do so. Do you think she would have thought me lacking in good form? Also, is it permissible to ask your hostess for the recipe for some delicious dish she has served?

Louise Davis answers:
No, indeed, it isn't bad manners to ask your hostess these questions. She is always highly flattered when she discovers something that her guests particularly like, and she likes to hear the comments.

After all, her packaged cracker is no secret. If she discovered the box in a store, you can find it too, but I'm sure that she would be happy to tell you the name brand to save you the trouble of hunting. Asking for the recipe of the delicious dish is generally all right, but one should go about it diplomatically. First, of course, is the praise, which delights any hostess. If the recipe happens to be a family secret, she will immediately say so in order to save her guests the embarrassment of asking. If no such comment is made by her, then ask if she ever gives out recipes to her friends, for you would so much love to have it.

Holly Bazaar At Orphanage Raises $800

Annual holly bazaar at the B.C. Protestant Orphanage was officially opened Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah. The affair, sponsored by the Junior auxiliary to the Orphanage, realized a sum of $800. Miss Lealie Field, general convener, introduced Mrs. Scurrah. Miss Elizabeth Wilson, president, welcomed guests.

A main attraction was the sale of boxes of holly at the garden stall.

Among many popular items on sale were quaint little Santa Claus figures, made from apples, marshmallows, suckers and gumdrops. Another special feature was sale of mince meat and Christmas cakes, under the convener'ship of Miss Field.

Tea was served under the convener'ship of Miss Diane Cox and Miss Maxine Ellis. A fishpond was operated by the Ranger Girls, and Mrs. Marjorie Shaw was in charge of the post office booth. Miss Shirley Marshall was convener of raffles.

Other stalls were arranged by: Miss Betty Stadfeld, toys; Miss Joan Smitherman, Mrs. Pat Young and Mrs. F. McPherson, babywear; Mrs. M. Nelson and Miss Joan Manning, children's wear; Mrs. Helen Chamberlain and Mrs. F. Herman, home cooking; Mrs. Helen Smart and Miss Peggy Love, candy; Mrs. Nessie Hart, superfluities; Mrs. Margaret Cronbie, garden and holly; Miss Merle Beanlands and Mrs. Connie Harrison, aprons; Mrs. Nancy McCoy and Miss Mary Bochkio, novelties.

Attractive decorations in Christmas theme, with branches of evergreens tied with large red bows, were arranged with the help of Mr. Al Beanlands and Mr. J. Harrison.

Miss Betty Stadfeld was in charge of publicity.

MAKE VISIT TO MOON

When they were on a holiday trip to California recently, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore, 967 Bank Street, visited Disneyland and enjoyed a ride on TWA's rocketship to the moon. The 80-foot structure, which is the theme of the Tomorrowland section of Walt Disney's magic kingdom of California, simulates a 12-minute "trip" to the moon by rocketship as scientists predict it will be made by 1985.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Ever Try Giving 'Wrong' Present to 'Right' Person?

I am an advocate of giving the wrong Christmas present to the right person. This may sound a bit confusing. My idea is this. I think we become too stereotyped in our idea of those we know and that this is reflected in the presents we give them.

A woman who cannot afford to buy many personal luxuries for herself is likely to get a bigger kick out of some fluffy bit of lingerie or an exotic perfume than she would out of a dozen pot holders or a fountain pen. Unless a man or woman has an unlimited amount of money there always are things we can give which they would not buy for themselves. Such gifts are most appreciated. Therefore, I suggest that we do not look at our friends and family with too practical an eye when selecting their Christmas presents.

Here are a few suggestions which may help you. Most hobbies cost some money and many of the most interesting ones are quite expensive. Why not give something which is connected with the hobbies of your friends or family.

Books make wonderful gifts for those who love to read if you know enough about the person's taste in literature. There are also many informative books about, practically every hobby. There are books on wild life, gardening, hooked rugs, herbs, ceramics and so on.

Of course, the possibilities in the cosmetic world are myriad. Each year there are more products available and they are more imaginatively and beautifully packaged than ever before.

Also remember flowers when selecting your gifts this year. These are lovely messengers on Christmas Eve. There always are rewarding possibilities when buying for those who love music—records, record players, record racks and tape recorders.

If you are sending gifts to those you have not seen for some time, it is always helpful to ask their family or friends what they want or need. You just barely have time to do this with the hope for a quick answer.

I hope these suggestions strike fire some place on your Christmas list.

Main floor at the YWCA was crowded with eager buyers on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Grace Kingham, city social sponsor of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, officially declared the annual Xi Beta Chapter bazaar and tea opened. Mrs.

Kingham was introduced by Mrs. Grace Waters, chapter president. A sum of $400 was realized during the afternoon and will be used to assist with work at "Seven Oaks," the Family and Children's Service home for emotionally disturbed children.

TODAY'S RECIPE

CRANBERRY LATTICE COFFEE CAKE—1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons sugar, ¼ cup shortening, 1 egg, ¼ to ½ cup milk, ¼ cup canned jellied cranberry sauce, crushed (½ 1-lb. can).

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Beat egg. Add milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is well moistened. Spread into greased 8-inch square pan. With floured spoon or finger make grooves in dough, diagonally across pan about 1½ inches apart, to form lattice. Fill grooves with cranberry sauce. Bake in moderately hot oven 400 degrees F 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 1 8-inch square coffee cake.

Christmas bazaar, Cridge Memorial Hall, Church of Our Lord, corner of Blanchard and Humboldt Streets, Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. Sale of work, home cooking, candy, novelties. Afternoon tea will be served.

Pickersell said at a press conference Sunday night that the movement of refugees to Canada will mount steadily and estimated between 5,000 and 6,000 will be "in Canada or en route there by the end of the year." Another 4,000 probably could move during January.

But by the time CHEK-TV signed off Sunday night after about 16 hours of weekend operations there were many of those hit by Thursday's trial test who breathed a sigh of relief. Work by CHEK-TV engineers had produced results. Interference was eliminated or had been reduced to a point where a set-tuning, an antenna adjustment or the addition of a trap would bring in reasonably good Channel 5 reception.

LETTERS OF PRAISE

Congratulatory telephone calls and letters flooded CHEK-TV over the weekend. Said station manager David M. Armstrong: "You can come down and look at these letters we've received and see for yourself that the high proportion of them are congratulatory."

"Out at the site, Westinghouse engineer Bert Fines said that by working night and day since the Thursday signal, he and the technical staff had been able to cut Channel 5's original interference with Channel 3 down to "at least half."

"We have now reduced interference with five much beyond that point required by the department of transport," he pointed out. "But this is as far as we can go."

There were some complaints by Channel 6 viewers over the weekend that black parallel bars appeared in the pictures and that the sound was weak and faded. Mr. Fines explained that much of this trouble had been produced at the still-unfinished station by the dust and dirt particles flying about in the atmosphere. However, he thought both the picture defects and the sound should be cleared up within the next few days.

MANY UNHAPPY

Meanwhile there were those, particularly in homes near the transmitter site, who were most unhappy. They were the ones who were bringing in two Channel 6s—one on channel 6 and one on channel 5. Possibly the most desperate Saanich man was the one who put up his house for sale Monday morning. Indication that there was still co-channel interference existing in spite of the work done on the transmitter was in the rush for traps. George Hinch, manager of Western Agencies, whose firm represents a Montreal trap manufacturer, said: "We had a terrific amount of inquiries over the weekend. Even my home phone was busy Sunday and they've been coming in here in droves."

Mr. Hinch said nine of the traps—all he had on hand—were placed in sets to test them. The results, he asserted, were most satisfying. Only in homes close to the transmitter was it impossible to trap out all Channel 6's interference with Channel 5. He pointed out, however, that it would be some days before his firm would be able to bring the trap into town for the general public.

Roy Parrott, whose firm, Ellison Quale Radio Supply Ltd., handles another type of trap, described the inquiries as "moderate." Referring to the lack of pattern of the interference, how it differed not only in each area but sometimes on the same street, he told of the two sets he had. On one he experienced no interference while on the second set Channel 5 was completely knocked out.

"It may be," said Mr. Parrott, "that the new station is merely showing up the necessity for a thorough retuning of some sets." He thought if he tuned the set with the interference he could almost entirely eliminate it.

Technician Earl Fenwick of 2539 Wark Street said he thought CHEK-TV engineers had done a magnificent job of curbing the interference. "I looked at 24 sets on Sunday alone," he declared. "I think the engineers have cleared up about 90 per cent of the trouble. What is left can be handled with gadgets along the lines of traps."

Doug Price of Langford Radio reported that CHEK-TV engineers have eliminated interference in the Langford area. He said also, that he was speaking to a technician who was working in the Elk Lake area who reported that much of the trouble here could be eliminated.

Of course there is always one in every situation such as this, Doug Peden, Times sports reporter who lives in Cadboro Bay, looked a trifle shaken Monday morning as he said: "I can't pick up Channel 6 at all."

Six-Year-Old Hurt in Fire

COURTENAY — Tony Gage, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gage, Comox, received painful burns Sunday when the garage in which he was playing at the family home burst into flames.

A loud explosion followed by screams alarmed Mrs. Gage's two brothers, who ran to the garage to find it in flames. One of the men was burned while taking the boy from the building.

HAT SCORES HIT — Leading Aircraftman Cummine Dunbar, Vancouver, and his cap are the centre of interest for two Swedish members of the United Nations Emergency Force at Naples, Italy. LAC Dunbar is an aero-engine technician with the RCAF's 435 Squadron, now on UN air support duties in the Middle East. The cap is of the type worn by baseball players and bears the squadron crest. Groundcrew members of the squadron wear this type of chapeau while working around the aircraft. (SNS Photo.)

MAJ.-GEN. PEARKES SAYS:

Diefenbaker Certain For Tory Leadership

John Diefenbaker's election as leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Canada is now assured, Maj. General G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP, said here today.

"At least four-fifths of all the Conservatives in Canada want Mr. Diefenbaker to lead the party," he said.

The Conservatives will choose their leader at a national convention in Ottawa Dec. 12-14. The two other contenders are E. Davie Fulton, MP for Kamloops, and Donald Fleming, MP for Eglinton, Ont.

General Pearkes who is MP for Esquimalt-Saanich returned here Saturday night after attending the emergency session in Ottawa called to vote money for Canadian participation in the United Nations peace patrol in the Suez and for aid to Hungarian refugees.

He said John Diefenbaker had strengthened his following with "a magnificent speech" calling for a second "Quebec conference" to patch up relations between the western allies.

"His speech had a lightning effect on the House," General Pearkes said. "It was the outstanding speech of the whole session and won support from all sides of the House."

The general is convinced that the federal Liberal government lost "considerable standing" during the session.

St. Laurent's Suez Stand 'Outrageous'

He said Prime Minister St. Laurent's stand on Franco-British military action in the Suez was "outrageous."

"Quite obviously," he said, "External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson tried to tone down Mr. St. Laurent's outrageous remarks about Britain and France."

"Mr. Pearson's speech was carefully prepared and in it he tried to take a more generous view of the situation."

"Mr. St. Laurent, on the other hand, betrayed his true feelings in a heated piece of oratory that had not been prepared."

"The growing resentment against Mr. St. Laurent's anti-British tactics is by no means confined to British Columbia," General Pearkes said.

"In Saskatchewan last week I met many people who felt very strongly that Mr. St. Laurent does not reflect the feelings of most Canadians where the Suez crisis is concerned."

"I consider his statement in reference to Britain and France, placing them in the same category as Russia, was outrageous and unwarranted."

General Pearkes re-emphasized the statement he made in the Commons, that too many soldiers of 19 and under are being sent to the Middle East with the Queen's Own Rifles.

"It is taking chances to send young men into such unfamiliar territory," he said, "although I am assured that they are physically fit and that the unit is a good one."

Fines Big Business In New York Streets

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have struck gold in the streets of New York. From January to October last year they tagged 1,232,292 traffic violators who paid $7,615,233 in fines. For the same period this year, 1,670,437 tickets have been issued and $10,113,434 collected.

Joint Air Search

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—A combined RCAF-USAF air search resumed today as eight planes were scouring the almost impenetrable bush country for three missing flyers aboard a USAF B-47 stratojet bomber which crashed Friday night, 30 miles west of Nipigon, Ont.

Inflation Now Reality Bank President Warns

MONTREAL (CP)—Inflation, which a year ago was only a potential threat, now is a reality, Gordon R. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal, said today at the bank's annual meeting.

So far inflation is only in its initial phases and far from rampant, but must be resisted resolutely and vigorously now, he said.

The battle against inflation can not be won quickly or easily, Canada cannot hold inflation at bay, within its own borders if it continues to gain ground in other countries.

"And it goes without saying that governments at all levels should not press their claims on national resources at a time of excessive demand."

With the growing diversity and importance of the means of attaining security of future income, whether in bank deposits, investments, life insurance or in pensions under private or government plans, all Canadians have a vital and continuing interest in preserving the dollar's purchasing power.

"We can have real prosperity and dollars of constant purchasing power if we so desire. Or, if we prefer to let prices rip whenever we happen to be trying to do too much too quickly, we can have a different kind of prosperity, much larger in dollars, but in dollars of lesser value."

"It is for us to decide what kind of prosperity and which kind of dollars we want in the next 12 months and the next 25 years."

NOT TILL 'LATER DATE'

Hungarians Stall Hammarskjold Tour

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The Hungarian government today accepted the offer of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to visit Budapest but specified that the visit should be "at a later date" appropriate for both parties.

At the same time, the puppet Communist regime again rejected the demands of the General Assembly for the entry of UN observers into Hungary to investigate the situation there.

UN Chief Hopes UNEF To Take Over Dec. 15

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold hopes that by mid-December the British and French forces will be out of Egypt and the emergency UN force will have taken command in Port Said.

This was made clear in a statement issued for him by a UN spokesman.

The spokesman said: "In view of the secretary-general's understanding of the policy of the British and French governments regarding withdrawal, the attention of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UN emergency force commander, has been drawn to the need to ensure that the United Nations force should be in a position to assume its responsibilities in the Port Said area by the middle of the month."

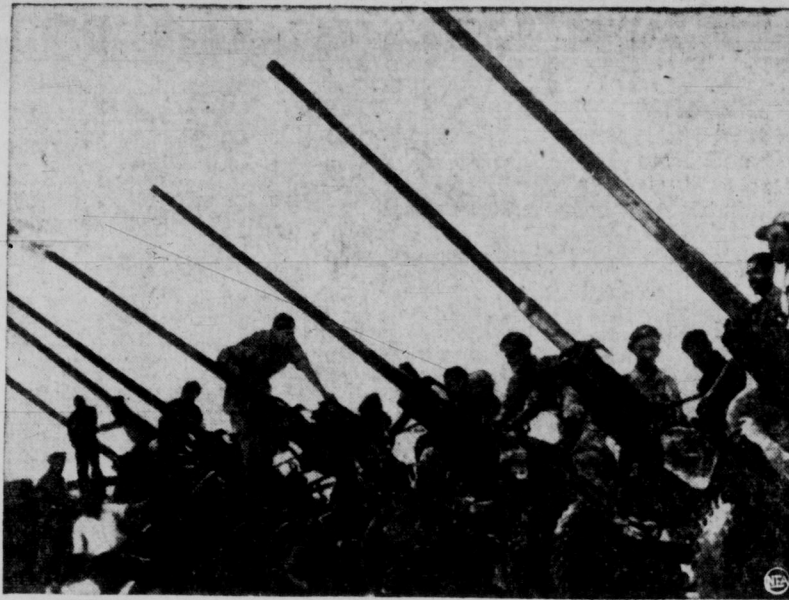

Hammarskjold plans to have almost 5,000 UN soldiers in ister Istvan Sebes to Hammarskjold.

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. immediately called the Hungarian position "most unsatisfactory."

Lodge said the Hungarian agreement to accept a visit from Hammarskjold at some indefinite time in the future could not be considered as compliance with UN demands for an on-the-spot inquiry into the Hungarian situation.

"The secretary-general must be able to go soon enough to do some good," Lodge said.

Noted Newsman 'Matt' Halton, Dies at London

LONDON (CP)—Matthew Henry "Matt" Halton, Canadian radio commentator and writer, died in St. Thomas's Hospital today after an illness of several weeks. He was 52.

Halton, a native of Pincher Creek, Alta., who became the dean of Canadian correspondents in London, suffered a relapse after a stomach operation last September.

Halton started his writing career with The Lethbridge Herald and came to Britain in the early 1930s on an Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire scholarship. He covered the Spanish Revolutionary War and was active as a correspondent throughout the Second World War. His coverage of the Middle East campaigns resulted in a book, "Ten Years to Alamein."

In 1945 Halton was appointed European correspondent for the CBC. He also did many broadcasts for the BBC and continued to write for The Toronto Star, Toronto Star Weekly and other publications.

His capacity for injecting a sense of urgency into situations he was describing as a radio commentator made many Canadians think of him as the voice of Britain and Europe in Canada.

One of his last big assignments was a report on the Gold Coast, broadcast in Canada early this year. He covered the summit conference at Geneva in July, 1955, and many other important international conferences.

He visited Victoria twice in recent years, on speaking tours for the Canadian Club. In November, 1944, he spoke in support of Canada's 7th Victory Loan. In May of this year he gave an assessment of the Russian position in world affairs.

He was a brother of Seth Halton, publisher of The Daily Colonist.

of the Commonwealth and ensure that at least some confidence in the future reputation of Britain continued to exist in other parts of the world.

The House will have 48 hours to think things over before beginning a two-day foreign policy debate. This will culminate in a vote of confidence Thursday night.

REVOLT POSSIBLE

There is a chance a revolt among his own parliamentary followers at that crucial point could turn the vote against Eden and force him to resign. But it is considered likely that enough of the diehards will close ranks behind the prime minister rather than risk defeat in the general election that would have to be called.

Reds Claim Turks In Iraq

From AP and UP Dispatches

LONDON (UP)—Moscow radio said today Turkey had sent two battalions of troops to Iraq to bolster the government of Premier Nuri El-Said against "popular demands" for withdrawal from the Baghdad pact.

There was no official confirmation of the reports.

The Moscow broadcast also said Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan "have refused to obey an order from the prime minister demanding their immediate return home."

The Moscow broadcast coincided with diplomat reports in London that the United States and Britain planned to strengthen the Baghdad pact nations to counteract Soviet arms shipments to Syria.

Britain meanwhile called in experts and ambassadors from Middle East countries to plan the build-up for the Baghdad pact nations with which it is formally allied—Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey.

Diplomatic sources said they believed no sizeable arms shipments would go immediately to Iraq lest that action itself be seized on by Syria or other Arab countries as a "provocation."

But they confidently expected some new U.S. declaration of support for the Baghdad powers although the United States is not a formal member of the pact.

Diplomatic sources told The United Press Turkey is "gravely concerned" over the reported Red buildup in Syria and was bringing pressure for full American membership in the Baghdad Pact.

Russia itself was known to be anxious whether the United States would join and a number of Soviet diplomats tried to pump Western reporters this weekend on whether they thought America would join.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, said in Washington Sunday her country "feels threatened" as a result of the military buildup in Syria and threats from the Soviet Union.

Pearson Clarifies Statement

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson Saturday night said he had the Asian members in mind when he stated in the Commons last week that the Commonwealth was on the verge of dissolution at one point in the Middle East crisis.

He clarified his original statement on the CBC television program News Magazine in which spokesmen for both Australia and Ceylon disagreed with Mr. Pearson's views.

Mr. Pearson said Sunday that if the fighting had gone on in Egypt, he feared it would be difficult for India to have remained in the Commonwealth.

And if India withdrew, he believed Pakistan and Ceylon also might have withdrawn.

But there never was any danger that the association of the older members of the Commonwealth such as Canada, Australia, Britain and New Zealand would have broken up.

Even if Canada didn't see 100 per cent eye to eye with Britain, her relations with the U.K. remained close and friendly.

The meeting, called by the Victoria area Christian Education Committee of the United Church, will be held in First United Church lower Sunday school hall Saturday at 10 a.m.

It is likely a rally or workshop will be held for teenagers Jan. 3 or 4, but discussion is "still in the formative stage," committee chairman Rev. D. R. Pilkey said today.

Arch Must Defend Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Archie Moore must defend his lightweight boxing title by March 18 or forfeit it, the executive of the National Boxing Association ruled Saturday.

The ruling amounted to a three months extension to Moore.

Moore's last title defence was against Yolande Pompey in London June 18, said George Barton, NBA committee member and boxing commissioner at Minneapolis. "Under our regulations, he was to defend it again within six months time, or by Dec. 18. Because of the physical beating he took from Floyd Patterson he was granted a three months extension for a defence against a recognized NBA contender."

$100 Fine for Man Who Left Accident Scene

A sailor who told police he fled from a traffic accident in which he was involved because he was "afraid it would cost me too much money," was fined a total of $100 in city police court today.

Real Joseph W. Potvin, HMCS Naden, said he left after the collision at Richmond and Fort Nov. 21 because he had no driver's licence or insurance.

"I had a good story and I thought I could get away with it," police quoted him as saying when he was arrested by Esquimalt police two hours after the collision.

Magistrate H. C. Hall fined him $40 for failing to remain at the scene of the accident, $35 for careless driving, and $25 for failing to have a driver's licence.

Saanich Building Shows Decrease During November

Saanich building figures took a seasonal dip during November for a total value of $190,410 in new or additional construction compared with $287,835 in October.

Compared with November, 1955, last month again came out second-best, or $24,890 less than a year ago.

And finally, the 11-month total for 1956 at $4,990,185 is $1,190,110 short of the first 11 months of 1955, which stood at $6,180,295.

A total of 48 permits was issued last month, against 59 a year ago, with 24 of them for dwellings valued at $174,900. In November, 1955, there were 30 permits for dwellings totalling $198,700 in construction.

The 11-month total for dwellings this year is $3,611,510 based on 548 permits, compared with $4,747,690 last year for 725 permits.

Total of permits issued in the January-November period is 972, a drop of 133 from the 1,105 permits issued to the end of November, 1955.

Teen-Age Rally Plan of Church

Close to 50 junior and senior high school students representing every United Church in Greater Victoria will confer with their youth leaders Saturday on a possible teenage rally in January.

The meeting, called by the Victoria area Christian Education Committee of the United Church, will be held in First United Church lower Sunday school hall Saturday at 10 a.m.

It is likely a rally or workshop will be held for teenagers Jan. 3 or 4, but discussion is "still in the formative stage," committee chairman Rev. D. R. Pilkey said today.

Bingo Raises $200 For Christmas Cheer

Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Club managed to clear expenses in their Saturday night bingo-for-charity session in Central Junior High School and will give $200 to Christmas cheer.

Only 900 players showed up to try for prizes—topped by $500 cash—leaving 700 empty seats. M. M. (Mac) Robertson, 3804 Quadra, took home the $500 cash prize for the evening feature game.

Kinsmen are investigating possibility of a third bingo session next spring and appreciate support shown in their two this fall.

Victoria Kinsmen Club, planning a bingo night for Dec. 17, have already sold 3,600 tickets and received 2,500 entries to their mystery guest contest running in conjunction with bingo.

Entries closed Saturday and judges will select a winner tonight. Winner, to be identified at the bingo game, will be brought from anywhere in the world at the expense of the club.

Victorians have submitted names of friends and relatives in such outlandish places as Tasmania, Vladivostok, Ceylon, Venezuela, British West Africa.

Winners of the Vic-Van Isle games were Mrs. C. Pearson, Sidney, electric fryer; W. Worsley, 1020 Queens, tri-light lamp.

Many letters are from displaced persons now living here who would like to have members of their families brought from camps in Europe, said chairman Jack Phillion.

"It's amazing how many mothers and daughters haven't seen each other in 25 to 30 years," he said.

Total prize list is valued at about $9,000 and following completion of all games a draw for 100 turkeys will be held.

general has accepted this responsibility.

Lloyd said Israeli forces should withdraw from Egyptian territory and from the Gaza strip, which he said should be made a United Nations responsibility.

"Lastly," he said, "there is the question of a long-term settlement of all the problems in the area."

"I believe our action has done a great deal to produce conditions in which progress can now be made."

The stationing of UN troops in the area will contribute to a final settlement, the foreign secretary said.

"I claim therefore that we have prevented it from spreading. The extent of Soviet penetration has been revealed."

"We have caused the United Nations to take action by the creation of an international force. We have alerted the whole world to the situation of great peril."

Jeers and laughter from Labor benches greeted these remarks.

"Of course," Lloyd added, "there will be heavy costs to bear but they would have been far greater if our action had not been taken."

"It is now for the United Nations and its member states to see that this opportunity is turned to good account."

Lloyd sat down to loud Conservative cheers and Labor counter cries of "Resign!"

Aneurin Bevan, Labor's new spokesman on foreign affairs, immediately welcomed the announcement that troops will be withdrawn.

"We are very glad to hear and the country and the world will be glad to hear that the French and British governments have at last decided to pull their troops out of Egypt," he said.

"Secondly, we are glad to hear that the government are no longer attempting to dictate

HUNGARY'S FIGHTING STUDENTS

Two little Victoria boys decided Saturday that "Hungary's Fighting Students" needed money more than their relatives needed Christmas presents, and parted with a dollar each for the students' fund sponsored here by the Times.

The fund is designed to help 40 young heroes of the recent revolt against Communism to complete their educations in Austria, where they have found refuge. Total cost of caring for the students until next May is $12,000.

(Pictures of some of these students arrived at the Times office today from Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, director of the Unitarian Services Committee of Canada, that is administering money collected. It is shocking to think that these youngsters, who differ not one whit from our own Victoria College students, were fighting for their lives against Russian armed might less than a month ago. The photos cannot be published because of the danger of rebellion against relatives in Hungary.)
